Collective agreement for the private social services sector made between the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers and Sosiaali- ja terveysalan neuvottelujärjestö Sote ry, the Trade Union for the Public and Welfare Sectors JHL, the Union of Professional Social Workers Talentia and Sosiaalipalvelualan allianssi Salli.

Section 1 Scope of the agreement

This agreement is applicable to employees working for the social sector service units of the member companies of the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers. This agreement does not, however, apply to:

A company's management, the heads of independent departments and people in equivalent supervisory positions who represent the employer in the determination of the terms of the employment relationship of employees covered by the scope of this collective agreement.

This refers to members of the company's management, heads of independent departments and other people in equivalent supervisory positions whose principal duties include acting as the employer's representative.

Section 2 Management and division of work as well as right of association

1. The employer has the right to supervise and divide work as well as to hire and dismiss employees.
2. The right of association is mutually inviolable.

Section 3 Start of employment relationship

1. A trial period that is at maximum six months long may be agreed on at the beginning of an employment relationship; during the time of the trial period, the employment contract may be terminated without a period of notice by either party. In a fixed-term employment relationship of less than 12 months, the trial period may be at most half of the duration of the employment contract.

If an employee has been absent from work during the trial period due to an incapacity for work or a family leave, the employer has the right to extend the trial period by a month for each 30-day calendar period included in the period of incapacity for work or family leave. The employer must inform the employee of the trial period's extension prior to its end.

2. Employment contracts are made in writing. However, a fixed-term employment relationship that lasts for no more than a week may also be agreed on orally, provided that the employee is notified of the duration of the employment relationship and the regular working hours in writing.
3. Fixed-term employment contracts can be made for a justified reason as referred to in the Employment Contracts Act.

3.1 The duration of a fixed-term employment contract may not, without a justified reason, be made for a shorter period of time than what the fixed-term need for workforce known to the employer is with regard to the work in question.

3.2 A work shift schedule in accordance with chapter 6(8) of this collective agreement will be drawn up for fixed-term employee.

3.3 If an employer and employee have entered into several consecutive fixed-term employment contracts without interruptions or with only short-term interruptions in between, the employment relationship is considered, in terms of the determination of employment benefits, to have been valid continuously as referred to in Chapter 1, section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act.

Section 4 End of employment relationship

1. When the employer terminates an employment contract valid until further notice, the following periods of notice shall apply, depending on the duration of the employment relationship:

0–1 year(s)	14 days
more than 1–4 year(s)	1 month
more than 4–8 years	2 months
more than 8–12 years	4 months
more than 12 years	6 months

When an employee terminates an employment contract valid until further notice, the period of notice is 14 days when the employment relationship has lasted for a maximum of five years and a month when it has lasted more than five years.

The period of notice begins to run on the day following the termination.

Example: An employment relationship subject to a 14-day period of notice is terminated on 13 January. The employment relationship's final date of validity is 27 January.

When counted in months, the employment relationship ends on the same day (in terms of the number of days in a month) as on which the relationship was terminated. If there is no equivalent day, the employment relationship ends at the end of the month.

Example: An employment relationship subject to a two-month period of notice is terminated on 13 January. The employment relationship's final date of validity is 13 March.

Example: An employment relationship subject to a one-month period of notice is terminated on 31 August. The employment relationship's final date of validity is 30 September.

2. A fixed-term employment relationship ends without a period of notice at the end of the agreed period of work.

Section 5 Wages

1. The signatory organisations agree on the bases for wages, salaries and their payment in a separate protocol.
2. Unless otherwise agreed with the employer, salaries are paid to the financial institution indicated by the employee, where they must be available for withdrawal by the employee on the due date. When the salary falls due on a date when financial institutions are closed, the closest preceding date is considered the due date.

Section 6 Working hours

Working hours comply with the provisions of the Working Hours Act, subject to the following:

Length of regular working hours

Dropping the increase in working hours pursuant to the Competitiveness Pact:

The 30-minute addition to weekly working hours based on the Competitiveness Pact will be abandoned as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date. Until such time, the working hours pursuant to the previous collective agreement apply.

General working hours

1. As of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to this date, an employee's regular working hours in work other than office or period-based work are, at maximum, 8 hours a day and 38 hours 20 minutes a week.

1.b. Working hours can also be arranged in such a way that they are, at maximum, 8 hours a day and 40 hours a week. This requires the employee's annual working hours to be reduced, as of September 2020, by 7 hours for each such month of working for which the employee is paid a full salary for the work in question for every day of the month or which includes a maximum of three unpaid days.

The time off is granted during the next six months following to the accumulation period or even later, if agreed, and it will be notified of two weeks in advance.

Office working hours

2. As of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to this date, an employee's regular working hours in office work are, at maximum, 7 hours 40 minutes a day and 37.5 hours a week.

2.b. Workplaces which have applied shorter office working hours than the previous 37.5 hours a week will abandon the 30-minute addition to weekly working hours as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to this date and return to the former working hours. Any summer working hours shorter than normal working hours, however, will be abandoned as of 1 June 1994. Local agreements can be made on summer working hours or on extending office working hours to a maximum of 37.5 hours.

Extending working days by an hour

3. Daily maximum working hours may be, in work pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 and subject to prior agreement, temporarily extended by an hour. This requires the working hours to be adjusted to the applicable maximum weekly working hours during the reference period.

Period-based working hours

4. As of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to this date, an employee's regular working hours in period-based work as referred to in section 7 of the Working Hours Act – such as in early childhood education services requiring night work and social services operating for the major part of a day – are, at maximum, 10 hours a day and, in night shifts, 12 hours a day, and 38 hours 20 minutes a week.

In emergency duty-like period-based work, in which the employee usually has a chance for rest during the shift, the maximum length of the shift may be longer, as long as the daily rest periods pursuant to section 25 of the Working Hours Act are met.

Minimum length of a shift

5. Inappropriately short shifts are to be avoided. Shifts lasting less than four hours are not to be used at a workplace unless an employee's needs or some other justified reason attributable to work – such as the short duration of the work or need for workforce – so requires.

Clause concerning varying working hours

6. A clause concerning varying working hours refers to a working hours arrangement in which:

1. an employee's working hours during a specified period of time vary, on the basis of agreement, according to the work offered by the employer, between the minimum and maximum amount pursuant to the employment contract, or

2. an employee agrees or, based on the circumstances, can be shown to have agreed to perform work for the employer when called to do so separately

a) without minimum working hours, or

b) according to part-time working hours, which the realised working hours during a 12-month monitoring period materially exceed.

Varying working hours may not be agreed on at the employer's initiative if the employer's need for workforce covered by the agreement is fixed.

Any minimum working hours included in a clause concerning varying working hours may not, when agreed on at the employer's initiative, fall below what the employer's need for workforce requires.

If the realised working hours over the past 12 months indicate that the agreed minimum working hours are not equal to the employer's actual need for workforce, the employer must, at the request of the employee, negotiate on changing the clause to reflect the actual need.

Unless otherwise mutually agreed, the clause on minimum working hours must be defined according to the average of realised working hours over the past 12 months. However, the minimum working hours do not need to be redefined if the realised working hours deviate, on average, from the minimum working hours agreed on in the employment contract by no more than four hours a week. If the employer can show, in writing and with justifiable grounds, the future need for workforce to be something other than the realised average, the clause on minimum working hours will be defined accordingly.

Use of work shift schedules

7. Regular weekly working hours can also be organised in such a way that they are, on average, the aforementioned. This requires a work shift schedule to have been prepared in advance for the work concerning the period of time during which the weekly regular working hours adjust to the average in question. The length of the reference period is 3–6 weeks.

Application instructions:

Work shift schedules must be planned for full calendar weeks.

In other than period-based work the working hours may not, during any week of the reference period, exceed 48 hours. When applying a six-week reference period in period-based work, the working hours may not exceed 126 hours during the first or second three-week period.

8. A work shift schedule of the work shifts is prepared in advance for the reference period. This work shift schedule must be made available to the employees well in advance and no later than a week before the relevant schedule becomes applicable. Work shift schedules may be changed only by agreement or due to unforeseen changes in the conditions in which the employer is having work done. In the latter situation, the employer should also seek to agree on the changes and inform the employee of such changes as soon as possible.

Application instructions:

Any changes made to a confirmed work shift schedule must be made available and, on request, subsequently verifiable within statutes of limitation.

9. In period-based work, employees may not be assigned more than five consecutive night shifts in the work shift schedule, after which they must be given a continuous break of at least 24 hours. In addition to five consecutive night shifts, an employer may nevertheless, as an exception, have an employee work no more than two night shifts as additional work or overtime, subject to the employee's separate consent for each of those shifts.

Rest periods

10. The regular working hours of a 24-hour period are to be organised in such a way that, unless there is a justified reason for some other procedure, the working hours are uninterrupted apart from a 30-minute meal break. Hour-long meal breaks can be agreed locally. If an employee can leave the workplace during the meal break, the meal break is not counted as working hours.

If the employee does not have the opportunity to leave the workplace, they are entitled to a meal break of at least 20 minutes during working hours.

Meal breaks are to be organised, at a minimum, for working days that last for more than 5 hours.

11. Employees are provided with the chance for a coffee break during the working day at such an hour specified by the management when it can be taken without disturbing the work of each employee.
12. Working weeks are organised so that they consist, on average, of a maximum of five days. The week's second day off should, insofar as possible, coincide with the weekly rest day and be primarily a Saturday, unless otherwise required by the work arrangements.
13. Employees are given an at least 35-hour period of uninterrupted weekly rest during each calendar week. The weekly rest can also be organised temporarily, subject to an agreement between the employer and the employee, in such a way that it is adjusted to an average of 35 hours during a period of two weeks, but even in such cases, each week must include an at least 30-hour period of weekly rest.

Derogations from the working hours regulations

14. The working hours provisions in this collective agreement do not apply to employees outside the Working Hours Act's scope of application whose working hours are not predefined and whose use of their working hours is not monitored and who can therefore decide on their working hours themselves, when the case pertains to work carried out at private residencies which, due to the special characteristics of the operations involved is being carried out in circumstances of the kind that the employer cannot be considered to be in a position to monitor the arrangements of the time spent on it. This provision does not apply to remote working covered by the Working Hours Act's scope of application.
15. When work is carried out during patient trips, camp or course travel or under equivalent circumstances, the employer and the employee may agree on the determination of the working hours and the compensation for them in derogation of the regulations specified in this collective agreement. In such cases, the parties should, insofar as possible, prepare a working hours plan prior to the travel, indicating the hours to be considered as working hours and any possible stand-by time. Per diem allowances are paid in accordance with the collective agreement.

Section 6 a Local agreements on working hours

Local agreements on working hours require what is referred to as a two-stage agreement (subsections 1 and 2)

1. Local company- or unit-specific agreement on working hours:

The employer and shop steward or, in the absence of a shop steward, the employees together or some other representative elected by the employees, may agree on the application of flexible working hours pursuant to subsection 3 A–D in a specific company or work unit.

2. Local individual agreements on working hours

The application of flexible working hours agreed on with regard to a company or unit requires the employer and individual employees to agree on the use of the flexible working hours.

3. Flexible working hours

A) The working hours can be adjusted over a period of several work shift schedules. Each work shift schedule must be prepared and made available a week before the schedule in question becomes applicable.

The length of the reference period can usually be agreed to comprise a maximum of 6 three-week periods (18 weeks).

For special reasons, the length of the reference period can be agreed to comprise a maximum of 17 three-week periods (51 weeks). Such special reasons can include varying amounts of work during different seasons or other functional reasons or a reason based on the employee's own working hour needs, the realisation of which requires, pursuant to the shared view of the parties, a longer-than-usual reference period. Such special reasons must be mentioned in the working hours agreement.

B) The daily maximum working hours with regard to general and office work can be extended to 12 hours as long as the working hours are adjusted to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement during the reference period.

C) The maximum length of a shift in period-based work can be extended to 15 hours as long as the working hours are adjusted to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement during the reference period and the daily rest is provided in accordance with section 25 of the Working Hours Act.

In accordance with the Working Hours Act, a reduction of the daily rest to nine hours may not be regular. If the rest period has been reduced to less than 11 hours, the rest period substituting for the daily rest must be given in connection to the next daily rest or, if this is not possible due to weighty reasons related to the work's arrangement, as soon as possible, although in any case within 14 days. A substituting rest period must be given as a continuous period and it may not coincide with a standby time.

D) When using a 6-week work shift schedule in period-based work, the maximum limitation of 126 hours can be derogated from during a three-week period as long as the working hours are adjusted to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement during the reference period.

In other respects, the collective agreement's regulations pertaining to working hours and the compensation for them shall apply.

4. Working hours plan of locally agreed longer reference periods

Longer reference periods require the preparation of a working hours plan, which must include the key principles applicable to the arrangement of the working hours. In such cases, the parties must agree on, for instance, the arrangement of shifts according to the work situation, regularly occurring days off, the periods subject to longer-than-usual working hours and the time of any possible longer period of days off.

Application instructions: Well-functioning local agreements are able to reconcile the workplace's functional needs and an employee's working hours needs. A working hours plan agrees, depending on the parties' needs, on the principles of arranging the working hours in a broader or more precise manner.

The plan may be changed for a justified reason, but any longer periods of days off agreed on must be realised during the longer reference period, unless otherwise agreed.

5. Procedures

Company- or unit-specific and individual agreements on working hours as well as the related working hours plans must be made in writing.

The use of the arrangement may be agreed to be valid until further notice or for a maximum fixed period of one year at a time. An agreement valid until further notice can be terminated on agreement or with a three-month period of notice. However, the reference period under way at the moment of termination will continue until the end of the agreed reference period.

A company- or unit-specific agreement on working hours must be sent to the signatory organisations whose members the agreement concerns.

6. Independent agreements on working hours

Should the employer and the employees' representative find the flexible working hours agreed on with regard to a particular employee pursuant to subsection 3 to have no effect on the arrangement of other employees' working hours or terms of employment, the employee in question may agree on the flexibilities independently, without an agreement concerning the company or the unit.

The parties to the collective agreement would like to remind that the guide on healthy and productive working hours ("Terveet ja tulokselliset työajat") agreed on by the unions includes the following diagram outlining local agreements on working hours.

Section 6 b Banking scheme

The parties to the collective agreement for the private social services sector have agreed on the following banking scheme (working-time account) to complement the sector's collective agreement:

Banking scheme as a concept

A working-time account refers to a voluntary scheme in which additional work and overtime, hour-specific supplementary compensation, or standby compensation converted into days off can be saved by agreement.

The working-time account does not change valid working hours and adjustment schemes (such as locally agreed reference periods for working hours or flexitime systems). The working-time account is meant to be used in addition to the above in an attempt to reconcile working hours and free time.

Agreeing on banking schemes

The adoption and more detailed content of the working-time account is agreed on between the employer and employee in writing. These agreements cover, for instance, the periods of time during which the working-time account accumulates and the maximum amounts of savings. The agreements are based on voluntariness.

The termination of a banking scheme

A working-time account is valid either until further notice or for fixed period of time. The starting point is the accumulation of days off and the taking of such days off according to the original plan. For a justified reason, however, a valid working-time account can be mutually terminated, subject to a four-month period of notice, or a fixed-term working-time account can be terminated after it has been valid for a year, subject to a four-month period of notice. If the saved-up free time has not been taken by the time the working-time account terminates, it will be paid in cash. The same applies to the end of the employment relationship.

The factors of a working-time account

The factors of a working-time account can include:

- additional work or overtime and the increased component of overtime;
- Saturday, Sunday, evening and night work compensation;
- standby time compensation.

The days off are saved up as hours and minutes in the working-time account and are granted as working days (5 per week) in such a way that the length of a full day off is equal to the employee's average weekly working hours divided by 5. When agreed, the days off may also be granted by reducing working hours by some other means than full days.

Determination of earnings to be paid for days off

When taking days off based on the working-time account, the salary paid for the relevant period is determined according to the fixed salary valid at the time of the days off.

Taking days off

The starting point in banking schemes is the optimum reconciliation of working hours and free time with regard to the functional needs of the working community and an employee's individual needs.

The employer and the employee agree on the period of time during which the days off based on the working-time account are taken either when agreeing on or during the validity of the banking scheme.

The banking scheme's effect on other terms of the employment relationship

Banking scheme-based days off do not change the terms applicable to the employment relationship. Banking scheme-based days off are deemed equivalent to time spent at work when calculating the right to annual holidays as well as when determining the right to additional work and overtime compensation.

An employee's illness in the context of banking scheme-based days off

If an employee falls ill prior to the commencement of an agreed period of banking scheme-based days off or during them, any days in excess of a single day will not be considered banking scheme-based days off.

The days off not used are postponed and will be granted at a time to be agreed on later. If the absence due to the sickness ends prior to the end of the agreed days off, the days off will continue as agreed. The employee must inform the employer of the illness as soon as it begins. The relevant certificate is delivered to the employer in accordance with the workplace practice.

Disputes

The resolution of possible disputes is subject to the dispute resolution procedure pursuant to the collective agreement.

Section 7 Public holidays

1. Good Friday, Easter Monday, Midsummer's Eve, and any New Year's Day, Epiphany, May Day, Ascension Day, Independence Day, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and Boxing Day which does not fall on a Saturday or Sunday, is an extra public holiday if it can be given as a day off, accounting for the nature of the relevant task. Should the aforementioned days not be days off, the employee is given an equivalent whole day off during the same week or the reference period, unless otherwise agreed between the employer and employee.

Each of the aforementioned days reduces the regular working hours of the week or reference period by an amount equivalent to the average daily hours (weekly working hours divided by 5).

The public holiday reduction of an employee subject to varying working hours as referred to in chapter 6(6) of the collective agreement is calculated on the basis of the previous holiday credit year or the average of realised working hours during the last 12 months. If the employment relationship has not yet lasted for a full holiday credit year or 12 months, the public holiday reduction is calculated on the basis of the average of realised working hours during the entire duration of the employment relationship or a period which is demonstrative of the average weekly working hours.

Example: The employee has, during the previous holiday credit year, worked for a total of 704 hours during 47 weeks outside their annual holidays.

Public holiday reductions and hours not worked during absences pursuant to section 7 of the Annual Holidays Act are considered equal to work that has been carried out.

During the previous holiday credit year, the employee was paid 30 hours' worth in public holiday compensation and the hours not worked due to sick-leave over the course of the holiday credit year total 18.

The employee's average weekly working hours are $752 \text{ h} (704 + 48) / 47 = 16 \text{ h}$ per week. The amount of the public holiday reduction is $16 \text{ h} / 5 = 3.2 \text{ h}$ (3 hours and 12 minutes) / public holiday.

The public holiday reduction is granted to employees who are paid a monthly or hourly salary and whose employment relationship lasts for a minimum of two weeks. An employee paid by the hour is paid the normal hourly salary equivalent to the public holiday reduction as compensation for the public holiday reduction.

Application instructions: The provision on fringe benefits dependent on the duration of an employment relationship in Chapter 1 section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act must be accounted for in consecutive fixed-term employment relationships or recurring employment relationships with only short-term intervals.

Section 8 Additional work

1. Additional work means work carried out by a part-time employee in addition to the agreed working hours up to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement. Public holidays reduce the threshold for additional work in part-time employment in accordance with section 7. Additional work is subject to the payment of a simple hourly salary for each worked hour.
2. Having additional work done requires the employee's consent.

Section 9 Overtime

1. The employer may have overtime done at the consent of the employee within the framework of the law.

Overtime in general work and office work

2. Daily overtime is work carried out within general working hours for more than 8 hours a day and, within office work, for more than 7 hours 40 minutes a day or, on average, for more than the aforementioned hours in a day. It is subject to the payment of the regular wage plus 50% for the first two hours and the regular wage plus 100% for any following hours.
3. As of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to this date, work which is carried out within general working hours for more than 38 hours 20 minutes a week and, within office work, for more than 37.5 hours a week, and which is not daily overtime, is weekly overtime. It is subject to the payment of the regular wage plus 50% for the first eight hours and the regular wage plus 100% for any following hours.

When using a work shift schedule, work carried out in excess of the aforementioned average weekly maximum working hours indicated in the work shift schedule, and which is not daily overtime, is weekly overtime. It is subject to the payment of the regular wage plus 50% for the first eight hours of each three-week period and the regular wage plus 100% for the following hours.

Overtime in period-based work

4. Overtime is work carried out in excess of the average weekly maximum working hours indicated in the work shift schedule in accordance with the collective agreement. It is subject to the payment of the regular wage plus 50% for the first eighteen hours of each three-week period and the regular wage plus 100% for the following hours.

Example: The plan concerning an employee's six-week work shift schedule included 120 working hours for the first three-week period and 110 hours for the second three-week period, totalling 230 hours. However, 140 hours of work was carried out during the first three weeks and 115 hours during the second three weeks, totalling 255 hours. In terms of the first three weeks, the amount of overtime comes to 18 hours subject to the regular wage plus 50% and 2 hours subject to the regular wage plus 100% and, in terms of the latter three weeks, 5 hours subject to the regular wage plus 50%, totalling 25 hours of overtime.

Working hours and overtime during public holiday weeks and interrupted reference periods

- Public holidays reduce the overtime threshold of a reference period in accordance with section 7, unless the public holiday in question is a day of absence that reduces working hours pursuant to section 6.

Foreseen absences

- Absence days coinciding with workdays known prior to the confirmation of a work shift schedule reduce the overtime threshold of a reference period with an amount equal to average daily working hours (weekly working hours/number of weekly workdays).

Average daily working hours when the average amount of work is 5 days a week as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date

38 hours 20 minutes weekly working hours	7 hours 40 minutes
37.5 hour weekly working hours	7 hours 30 minutes
36 hours 15 minutes weekly working hours	7 hours 15 minutes, etc.

Application instructions: If the placement of shifts with regard to different weekdays is not known prior to the confirmation of the work shift schedule, the shifts are assumed to occur between Monday and Friday, in which case known days of absence between Monday and Friday reduce the threshold for overtime.

- The overtime threshold pursuant to section 6 is, at the same time, the amount of the regular working hours planned for the work shift schedule.

Unforeseen absences

- Absences that become known after the confirmation of the work shift schedule reduce the threshold for overtime in accordance with the working hours left undone due to the absence entered in the work shift schedule.

Section 10 Partitioning of salary

A monthly salary is partitioned when an employment relationship begins or ends in the middle of a pay period and in connection with unpaid absences. Regarding an employee with a monthly salary, the salary for a partial month is calculated as follows:

Foreseen absences

1. In connection with unpaid absences known of prior to the confirmation of the work shift schedule, the salary for a partial month is calculated according to the worked days in relation to the month's normal workdays. Public holidays are comparable to workdays.

Application instructions: If the placement of shifts with regard to different weekdays is not known prior to the confirmation of the work shift schedule, the shifts are assumed to occur between Monday and Friday, in which case the salary for a partial month is calculated according to the days between Monday and Friday, of the period at work, in relation to all days of the month between Monday and Friday.

Example: A month would normally comprise 21 workdays. The employee requests unpaid leave for the period of a week, which normally includes 5 workdays. The salary for the partial month is $16/21$ ths of the full monthly salary. The end result would be the same even if some of the normal workdays would be public holidays, because public holidays are equated with workdays.

Unforeseen absences

2. Absences that become known after the confirmation of the work shift schedule reduce the salary by an amount equal to the working hours left undone.

Previous calculation rule

3. If period-based work has previously been subject to a partial monthly salary based on calendar days and the calculation rule of the overtime threshold, the practice's continuation can be agreed on locally.

Section 11 The calculation of hour-specific compensation and their exchange for days off

1. When calculating compensation for additional work or overtime, or other hour-specific compensation (evening, night and Sunday work, standby and emergency work), the employee's basic hourly salary for work as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date with weekly working hours of 38 hours and 20 minutes is arrived at by dividing the monthly salary by 163; in office work with weekly working hours of 37.5 hours by 160; and in office work with weekly working hours of 36 hours and 15 minutes by the figure 153.
In part-time work, the divisor is the relation of the weekly working hours to the divisor of the full weekly working hours of the form of working hours in question.

Example: A part-time employee's agreed working hours in general or period-based work amount to 20 hours a week. The divisor of the employee's monthly salary is $20/38.333 \times 163 = 85.04$.

The employee's basic hourly salary is arrived at by dividing the employee's actual regular monthly salary by the aforementioned divisors. It includes the official salary, with its service increments and possible personal and task-specific increments, to be paid in equal amounts every month. It does not include hour-specific increments (evening, night, Saturday and Sunday increments), nor the fees of a shop steward or industrial safety delegate.

2. The salary paid for additional work or overtime or some other hour-specific compensation can be, at the consent of the employer and employee, exchanged for days off plus the equivalent percentages during regular working hours.
3. Hour-specific compensation is calculated from the unincreased basic hourly salary, and the employee may be entitled to a salary increased on the basis of more than one justification at the same time.

Example: Evening work carried out on a Sunday: Increase 115% (100% + 15%).

4. Hour-specific compensation paid as money is paid no later than in connection with the employer's normal payday which closest follows the work shift schedule during which the increments were accumulated, provided there is enough time for the realisation of the salary payment between the end of the work shift schedule and the payment of the salary.

Section 12 Sunday work

Sunday work – which means work performed on a Sunday, New Year’s Day, Epiphany, Good Friday, Holy Saturday, Easter Monday, May Day, Ascension Day, Midsummer’s Eve, Midsummer’s Day, All Saints’ Day, Independence Day, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and Boxing Day – is subject to the payment of the basic salary plus 100% for Sunday work per worked hour.

The Sunday work increase is also paid for the hours worked between 8:00 p.m. and 12 a.m. (midnight) on the previous day, with the exception of the days preceding Midsummer’s Eve and Christmas Eve.

Section 13 Saturday work

Saturday work is subject to the payment of the basic salary plus 25% for Saturday work per an hour worked between 6:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. The Saturday work increase is not paid for time which entitles the employee to the Sunday work increase.

Section 14 Evening and night work

1. Work performed between 6:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. is subject to the payment of the basic hourly salary plus 15% for evening work.
2. Work performed between 9:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. is subject to the payment of the regular wage plus 30% and, in period-based work, the basic hourly salary plus 40%.

Section 15 Standby and emergency compensation

1. The standby may not cause unreasonable inconvenience to the employee’s use of free time. The amount of the standby compensation or the grounds for its determination must be made available to the employees in writing at the time the standby agreement is made.
2. If an employee’s contract obligates them to be in emergency readiness while at home, the employee is paid 50% of their basic hourly salary for the standby time.

3. For a stand-by carried out from someplace other than the employee's residence, an hourly compensation in money is paid, equal to 15–35% of the employee's basic hourly salary, depending on the stand-by and the related liability.
4. Stand-by time is not counted in working hours. The parties may agree to exchange the stand-by compensation for days off, subject to equivalent compensation percentages.
5. An emergency compensation is paid if the employee, after having already left the workplace, is called to work during their free time and if they must arrive at work no later than within six hours of the emergency call. The night hours remaining between the emergency call and arriving at work (9 p.m.–6 a.m.) are, nevertheless, not accounted for when calculating the six-hour limit.

Emergency calls that occur during stand-by time are not subject to the payment of an emergency compensation.

Example: An employee receives a call at 8 in the evening at home, and is requested to arrive at work the next morning at 10. Besides the night hours between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m., the time remaining between the emergency call and the employee's arrival at work is 5 hours, due to which the emergency money is paid.

The usual amount of the emergency compensation is €18. However, if the employee must leave for work immediately after the emergency call, the amount of the compensation is €25. If the call to work means that the employee's shift entered in the work shift schedule begins at most an hour earlier, the amount of the emergency compensation is €10.

The obligation to pay an emergency compensation is not applicable to offering additional work to part-time employees who are called to work when necessary.

Section 16 Language increment

1. If the employer expects the employee to be fluent in a language other than Finnish or Swedish or to master sign language, the employer pays a language increment in the amount of €21–42 per month depending on the language skill and the need to use the language, or takes the required language skills otherwise into account in the salary, on a level at least equal to the aforementioned. The language increment should not be paid if the work, due to its nature, requires fluency in a foreign language.

The employee retains their right to a language increment possibly higher than this while the previous grounds for granting the increment are still in force.

2. Language increments are granted on application. As verification of the language skills, the employee must present a certificate no more than two years old granted by a university, other institute of higher education or a secondary school teacher of the language in question or by a foreign educational institute. The payment of the increment ends when the grounds for granting it come to an end.

Section 17 Travel expenses and daily allowances

The currently valid travel policy of the state applies to daily allowances and the compensation paid for travel expenses.

Work carried out at several locations is, furthermore, subject to the principles of the protocol appended to this collective agreement (p. x).

If the workplace has complied with the currently valid tax administration's decision on the grounds for and amounts of tax-exempt compensation for travel expenses, the practice may either be continued or the workplace may, per local agreement, adopt this practice if it has previously complied with the state's travel policy.

Section 18 Annual holiday

1. Annual holiday benefits are determined in accordance with the provisions of the Annual Holidays Act and the following regulations.
2. Employees earn the following amount of annual holidays for each full holiday credit month:
 - a) two weekdays;
 - b) two and a half weekdays, if the employment relationship with the current employer has continued without interruption for at least a year by the end of March.

Example: The employment relationship of an employee with less than 15 years of experience in the field began on 1 January 2018. For the holiday credit year 1 April 2017–31 March 2018, the employee earns two weekdays per a full holiday credit month. As of 1 April 2018, the employee earns holiday at the rate of 2.5 weekdays per month, as long as the employment relationship lasts for at least a year.

- c) three weekdays if the employee, by the end of March, has at least 15 years of service time entitling them to a service increment.

Example: The employee's work experience entitling them to the 15-year service increment will be fulfilled on 1 September 2018. The employee will begin earning holidays at the rate of three weekdays per month as of 1 April 2018.

- d) The employee is given three extra annual holidays a year if they have, by the end of March, at least 3 years of service time entitling them to the service increment in a directly continued employment relationship with the current employer (in accordance with Chapter 1, section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act, several consecutive fixed-term employment relationships with only short interruptions in between are regarded as a continuous employment relationship) or, in total, as at least 10 years of service time entitling the employee to a service increment.
- e) An employee who has been in the employment of the current employer on 31 October 1993 and who had a total of at least 15 years of service time entitling them to a service increment on 31 March 1994, retains their right to six extra annual holidays. The extension of holidays can be agreed upon locally.
- f) The prerequisite for the extension of a holiday pursuant to subsections d and a is that the employee has earned annual holidays for at least six months during the holiday credit year.

Example: The employment relationship of an employee with more than 15 years of work experience entitling them to service increment began on 1 January 2018. The employee will immediately begin earning holidays at the rate of three weekdays per holiday credit month. For the holiday credit year ending on 31 March 2018, the employee does not yet receive three extra holidays because, for the year in question, they have earned holidays for less than six months.

3. The service time entitling an employee to the annual holiday is deemed to include all service time entitling the employee to service increments pursuant to section 3 of the pay agreement.
4. Any share of a holiday in excess of five weeks is granted during the summer holiday or winter holiday season determined by the employer. Statutory annual holidays are given according to the Annual Holidays Act.

The summer holiday season in the Region of Lapland is 1 June–30 September.

5. Carried-over holidays: The employer and employee may agree on a carried-over holiday scheme pursuant to section 27 of the Annual Holidays Act and section 23 of the Working Hours Act. A share 18 days in excess of the annual holiday may be carried over to be taken later. Days off given as compensation for additional work and overtime can be linked, in part or in full, to a carried-over holiday by agreement.
6. Holiday pay: An employee with a monthly salary whose working hours include Sunday, evening, night or Saturday work performed during regular working hours is entitled to an addition equivalent to the aforementioned hour-specific increments to their holiday pay and holiday compensation.

The hour-specific increments are accounted for in such a way that the holiday pay calculated on the basis of the monthly salary is raised by the percentage which indicates how many percentages the hour-specific increments paid during the holiday credit year make up of the actual regular wages paid for the same period of time.

If the employment relationship has not yet been valid during the previous holiday credit year, the increased share of the hour-specific increments is calculated from the entire length of the employment relationship or from a period of time which indicates the average share of the increments.

The holiday pay and holiday compensation of an employee with a monthly salary is calculated, as per the practice of the previous Annual Holidays Act, by using the figure 25 as the divisor and the number of holidays as the multiplier, unless there is a local agreement on the use of a partial-month salary calculation practice. When using the divisor 25, the fixed holiday pay is adjusted to the employee's actual monthly salary in connection with the next salary payment in accordance with the previous Annual Holidays Act, whenever the combined shares of holiday pay and monthly salary do not correspond to the actual monthly salary.

The calculation of holiday pay is subject to the calculation provisions of the Annual Holidays Act. If the employee's holiday pay or holiday compensation is determined on the basis of a percentage and the employee earns more than the statutory number of holidays (2 or 2.5 weekdays per month) pursuant to section 18(2 c–e) of the collective agreement, the statutory 9% or 11.5% holiday pay or holiday compensation is raised by 0.38% for each holiday above the statutory level.

7. Payment of the holiday pay: A holiday pay is paid on the payday normally applied in an employment relationship, unless the employee, no later than a month prior to their holiday, requests their holiday pay to be paid in accordance with the Annual Holidays Act.

(The principle applicable to holidays longer than six days pursuant to the Annual Holidays Act is that the holiday pay is paid prior to the start of the holiday and, in holidays shorter than this, on the actual payday).

8. Instead of the calculation of working days (6 per week) pursuant to the Annual Holidays Act, annual holidays to be earned as of 1 April 2022 will be subject, in accordance with the appendix on p. 82, to the calculation of holidays (5 per week), unless earlier validity is decided on employer-specifically.

Section 19 Holiday bonus

1. Employees are paid 50% of their annual holiday pay, including their hour-specific increments pursuant to section 18(6) of this collective agreement, as a holiday bonus. However, the holiday bonus is not paid for the extra holidays pursuant to section 18(2 e–d).

The holiday bonus is calculated on the basis of the regular monthly salary in June, and paid in connection with the July payday, unless minor changes are made to the date of payment by the employer and employee.

Application instructions: A minor change to the date of payment means a date of payment other than July during the holiday season (2 May–30 September).

Example: The holidays earned by an employee amount to 30 weekdays. The hour-specific increments of a holiday credit year have amounted to 8% of the monthly salaries of the holiday credit year. The holiday bonus is the regular monthly salary for June plus $50\% \times 30/25 \times 8\%$ (temporary changes or unpaid absences are not taken into account). When an employment relationship comes to an end, the holiday bonus is calculated on the basis of the monthly salary applicable at the time the relationship ends.

If the employee's holiday pay is calculated on the basis of a percentage or, in situations involving changes as referred to in section 10, subsection 4 of the Annual Holidays Act, on the basis a monthly salary of the holiday credit year, the holiday bonus is 50% of the holiday pay including hour-specific increments, excluding the proportion of extra days pursuant to section 18(2 d–e).

2. The holiday bonus requires the employee to start their holiday and return from it on the agreed dates, unless the return from the holiday is prevented due to a reason mentioned in section 7 of the Annual Holidays Act or some other acceptable reason.
3. The holiday bonus is also paid for the holiday compensation, provided that the employment relationship has lasted for a minimum of four months without interruptions. However, this does not apply to an employee who fails to comply with a period of notice or who terminates a fixed-term employment relationship contrary to the Employment Contracts Act or whose employment relationship is deemed cancelled due to an absence from work pursuant to Chapter 8, section 3 of the Employment Contracts Act.

Section 20 Sick pay

1. If an employee becomes unable to perform their duties due to an illness or accident not attributable to wilful or gross negligence by the employee, the employer pays the employee a salary, provided that the employment relationship continues, for each period of absence, on the basis of the employment relationship's uninterrupted duration as follows:

Length of the employment relationship:	Term of sick pay:
less than 1 month	Day of falling ill and the next 9 weekdays (50% of salary)
1 month–less than 3 years	28 calendar days (full salary)
3–5 years	35 calendar days (full salary)
more than 5–10 years	42 calendar days (full salary)
more than 10 years	56 calendar days (full salary)

If the absence is attributable to an accident that occurred while at work, violence directed at the employee carrying out their tasks or an occupational disease, the pay term applicable to the period of illness is 90 days.

2. If the same illness or condition reoccurs within 15 calendar days of the return to work, the pay term for the period of illness is calculated as if it concerned a single term of absence.
3. The salary to be paid during a sick leave accounts for hour-specific increments deriving from regular working hours as in the holiday pay. Alternatively, the employer may adopt a practice in which the hourly increments are paid according to the confirmed work shift schedule and, in terms of the time following the end of the work shift schedule, as in holiday pay.
4. In an employment contract with a clause on varying working hours as referred to in section 6(6), the right to sick pay arises in accordance with section 20 if the work shift coinciding with the period of incapacity for work is noted on the work shift schedule, has been otherwise agreed on or if, circumstances considered, it can be otherwise considered clear that the employee would have been at work were they capable of doing so.

In terms of the time subsequent to the end of the work shift schedule, the sick pay is determined on the basis of the employee's average working hours. These are calculated on the basis of a period of time (such as 6 months or the previous holiday credit year) which indicates the average number of hours the employee would have worked during their sickness absence.

5. The employer pays the sick pay directly to the employee and applies for the sickness benefit itself after receiving the necessary accounts for it from the employee; the employee must deliver said accounts without delay.

The same principle also applies to other statutory daily allowances and benefits.

If the sickness benefit is not paid due to a reason attributable to the employee, the employer pays only the difference between the sickness benefit and the sick pay.

6. Employees are obligated to inform their employer of an illness immediately.
7. When necessary, the incapacity for work must be verified with a doctor's certificate or by way of some other explanation which is approved by the employer.

During an epidemic and in a situation where doctor's appointments are not available, a certificate on a short-term sick leave (an absence of 1–3 calendar days) granted by an occupational health care nurse or public-health nurse can be considered an approvable account.

The employer may, for a justified reason, name the doctor to be used, in which case the employer pays the costs of the doctor's certificate.

Section 21 Medical examinations and vaccinations

1. In the following cases, the employer will not make a deduction from the employee's wages, provided that the check-ups and examinations are conducted in such a way that the unnecessary loss of working hours is avoided, there has been no possibility to conduct them outside of working hours and they have been notified of beforehand.
 - a) The employee goes to a necessary medical examination for the purposes of getting an illness diagnosed or for the determination of a treatment or the administration of assistive products (such as glasses) and a related laboratory or X-ray examination ordered by a doctor.
 - b) A pregnant employee goes to prenatal medical examinations, such as maternity clinic examinations, which monitor the health of the pregnant employee or the foetus.
2. An employee's visits to medical examinations required by a new job or the law are counted as working hours. In such cases, the employer pays the necessary travel costs.

3. Employees have the right to get the vaccinations required by their work during working hours, provided that this is not possible without difficulty during some other time.

Section 22 Short-term absence

1. An employee's absence from work for one the following reasons, coinciding with the employee's working day, will not result in a deduction from the employee's salary or annual holiday. The length of a paid absence of this kind is, at maximum, one day, with the exception of a child's illness.
 - a) The sudden illness of a disabled child or a child less than 10 years of age, insofar as the absence is necessary in order to arrange care. The paid absence, however, cannot continue for more than three workdays as of the beginning of the illness. When necessary, the reason for the absence must be verified with a doctor's certificate or some other account approved by the employer; upon request, the employee must also provide an account of another provider's impediment for caring for the child.

The signatory organisations note that society is pursuing the increasingly balanced division of parental duties between women and men. Accordingly, families with two employed providers should aim to divide absences from work evenly among themselves.

- b) Another family member's sudden illness, which requires treatment. When necessary, the reason for the absence must be verified with a doctor's certificate or some other account approved by the employer; upon request, the employee must also provide an account of the necessity of the treatment.
- c) The death of a family member.
- d) The funeral of a family member or close relative.

The term "family member" refers to a spouse living in the same household as the employee and the employee's own or their spouse's children living in the same household as the employee. Children also include adoptive and foster children.

The term "close relative" refers to an employee's family members as well as their parents, grandparents, children, grandchildren, siblings and the parents of their spouse.

- e) The employee's own wedding.
 - f) The employee's own 50th and 60th birthday.
 - g) A conscript's call-up event.
2. An employee taking part in reserve training is paid the difference between their salary and the reservist's salary for the relevant days.
 3. A female employee entering voluntary military service is granted an unpaid leave for the duration of the military service. Benefits based on the employment relationship do not accumulate during this period of time.
 4. The loss of earnings attributable to participation in a meeting of a municipal council or board and a statutory electoral commission is compensated for to a member of such an organ of trust.
 5. The loss of earnings attributable to attending a meeting of the highest decision-making bodies of the signatory parties to this collective agreement, a member organisation thereof or a federation of unions or a union or representative meeting, or a meeting of a board committee/support team, is compensated for to the member of such an organ of trust.
 6. Employees must inform their employers of an absence pursuant to this section without delay and, insofar as possible, in advance.

Section 23 Maternity, paternity and parental leave and child-care leave

1. An employee's maternity, paternity and parental leave as well as child-care leave are determined on the basis of the Employment Contracts Act and the Health Insurance Act.
2. For the duration of the employment relationship, the employee is paid, as of the beginning of a maternity leave, actual regular wages for a period of 72 weekdays, provided that the employee has been in the employment relationship for at least three months.

Application instructions:

In accordance with the provisions in question, an employee is also entitled to maternity pay when they, following a parental leave or child-care leave, take a new maternity leave in compliance with the appropriate notification periods.

For the duration of the employment relationship, the employee is paid, as of the beginning of a paternity leave, actual regular wages for a period of 6 weekdays, provided that the employee has been in the employment relationship for at least three months.

The actual regular wages mean the employee's monthly salary, including the identical monthly amounts of personal or task-specific increments added to it. It does not include hour-specific increments such as additional work and overtime, or evening, night, Saturday and Sunday increments.

The employer applies for the maternity benefit with regard to the period of salary payment for itself after receiving the necessary accounts for it from the employee; the employee must deliver said accounts without delay.

If the maternity benefit is not paid due to a reason attributable to the employee, the employer pays only the difference between the maternity benefit and the fixed pay.

Section 24 Group life insurance

The employer takes out a group life insurance for its employees at its own expense and as agreed between the federations and central organisations.

Section 25 Protective clothing

Employees who work primarily in unsanitary tasks or tasks that subject clothing to wear and tear are provided with the appropriate protective clothing and the protective equipment required by occupational safety. The employer will pay for the procurement and maintenance of such clothing and equipment. Protective clothing may be agreed on locally.

Section 26 Shop steward

1. A company's organised employees have the right to elect a shop steward and a deputy shop steward from amongst themselves to act, under their authorisation, in matters pertaining to the interpretation of this collective agreement and other issues related to employment relationships.

2. In other respects, the parties abide by the shop steward agreement made between the signatory parties.

Section 27 Training and well-being at work

Occupational training and shared training organised by the employer and union training are subject to the training agreement between the signatory parties.

The signatory parties recommend that the need to develop an employee's personal professional skills and well-being at work be reviewed by the employee and their supervisor every year.

Section 28 Assembly at workplaces

A registered affiliated association of a signatory organisation to this collective agreement, and a department, work room body or equivalent thereof, has the opportunity to organise meetings outside working hours on premises indicated by the employer and in relation to issues concerning the workplace's employment relationships, under the following conditions:

- a) The holding of a meeting at the workplace must be agreed on with the employer, whenever possible, three days prior to the intended meeting.
- b) The order of the meeting and the tidiness of the meeting premises is the responsibility of the meeting's organiser.
- c) The meeting's organiser has the right to invite to the meeting the representatives of a union party to this collective agreement, an affiliated association thereof as well as the relevant federation or central organisation.

Section 29 Charging of membership fees

Under the authority of the employees, the employer charges the membership fees of a signatory organisation to this collective agreement from an employee's salary and pays them to the union's account in accordance with the instructions. The employee is provided with a certificate of the withheld amount at the end of each year.

Section 30 Federation agreements

The following recommendation and agreements, in the form in which they were valid prior to 15 February 2017, are complied with as part of this collective agreement:

Cooperation Agreement and protocol of signature (LTK–SAK/STTK/AKA-VA) 2001

Recommendation on the prevention of substance abuse problems, the handling of substance abuse issues and referral to treatment at workplaces (Confederation of Finnish Industries (EK)–SAK/STTK/AKAVA) 2015

Protocol on compensatory penalties (LTK–SAK/STTK/AKAVA) 2000

Section 31 Local agreements

The regulations specified in this collective agreement may be agreed on differently on the basis of a local agreement, in accordance with the procedures concerning local agreements (p. x).

Section 32 Dispute resolution

Employees are to first discuss issues pertaining to the interpretation and application of the collective agreement with their supervisor.

Local negotiations:

Disputes related to the collective agreement are first negotiated between the employer and the employee or a shop steward. The negotiations are begun and conducted without undue delay.

Should a resolution not be reached, a memorandum on the points of disagreement and the parties' viewpoints, grounds included, is prepared, if requested by one of the parties.

The relevant attachments are appended to the memorandum, two identical copies of which are then signed, one copy given to each party.

Federation/central organisation negotiations:

Should the matter remain unresolved, the local parties may refer it to the unions.

Labour Court:

Should the matter remain unresolved in the negotiations between the unions, it may be referred to the Labour Court.

Section 33 Valid benefits

This collective agreement is not applicable to such benefits based on an agreement between the employer and employee which have been agreed on separately in derogation of a collective bargaining agreement.

Section 34 Good labour relations

All industrial actions concerning an individual provision of this agreement or this agreement in full or are prohibited.

Section 35 Validity of the agreement

This agreement is valid from 1 April 2020 to 30 April 2022, continuing thereafter always for one year at a time, unless it is terminated in writing no later than a month before its expiration.

The party terminating the agreement must provide the counterparties with a memorandum of the key content of the amendment proposal in connection with the termination.

The provisions of this agreement remain valid until a new agreement has entered into force or until the negotiations between the contracting parties have been deemed concluded by one of the contracting parties.

PAY AGREEMENT

Section 1 Wages

1. Employees covered by the scope of the collective agreement are paid a salary according to, in the minimum, the sector's pay grouping, pay agreement and transitional provisions.
2. In the event that an employee is engaged in work for which a name or a suitable job description is not found in the pay grouping, the pay group of the closest equivalent job and pursuant to the level of education required for the work is applied.
3. The employee's work belongs under the pay group whose tasks the employee primarily carries out.

3.1. Task-specific minimum wage in the basic work of a pay group:

In the pay group's basic work, the wages are determined at least according to the group's minimum pay grade.

3.2. Task-specific increment in work more demanding than basic work:

The level of an employee's wages is impacted by how demanding their tasks are. If the employee's tasks are clearly more demanding and entail more responsibility than the basic work of the pay group in question, or if they require special training or experience, this must be accounted for either as a G pay grade higher than the minimum pay grade or as a euro-denominated task-specific increment.

Examples of situations in which a level of pay pursuant to section 3.2. must at least be applied:

- The employee has special tasks clearly more demanding than the pay group's basic work.
 - A task requiring special competence or expertise which is not included in the pay group's basic work.
 - Responsibility for a specific subject area or procurements not included within the pay group's basic work.
 - Being the contact person of a specific area of responsibility when this task is not included in the pay group's basic work.

When the criteria are met, the grounds for the payment of a task-specific increment are formed according to the same principles in all pay groups, compared to how demanding the basic work of each pay group normally is.

Examples of tasks that can be part of one or more pay groups: The person in charge of student tutoring, work shift planning or induction.

The role of a person in charge does not refer to conventional participation in student tutoring, work shift planning or induction carried out in connection to normal work in the unit.

Examples of tasks that can be part of one or more pay groups: The person in charge of developing work methods or systems, pharmacotherapy, terminal care, hygiene.

The list consists of examples and does not include all tasks forming a right to a task-specific increment.

- The employee is in the position of an employee in charge, or responsible for directing other employees, and a position of this kind is not included among the pay group's normal duties (such a team leader).
- The employee possesses the special work experience required by a task.
- The employee has, in addition to the pay group's normal training requirements, a professional degree, specialist qualifications or some other specialisation degree or specialisation training required by the work.
- Due to the nature of the work, the workplace has applied a level of pay higher than the basic work level, and new employees are hired for similar duties.

The signatory organisations note that it is not the purpose of the remuneration system to always place employees, in principle, in the minimum pay grade of the relevant pay group and to apply higher pay grades only in exceptional cases.

The use of higher pay grades is also possible in work other than work that is clearly more demanding or entails more responsibility than basic work or requires special training and experience.

An employee's G pay grade may exceed the G pay grades of the pay group in question.

3.3. The applicable task-specific increments and their amounts in euros or ranges of variation within different pay groups must be explained to the shop steward and the personnel. The accounts in question are given annually on either group, company or workplace-level, according to the employer's discretion.

4. Personal qualifications increment

An employee can be paid a euro-denominated personal pay increment for special professional skills, working efficiency, work contribution, cooperation skills, professional expertise or diverse interpersonal skills. The increment may be granted until further notice or for a fixed period of time.

The grounds for the payment of a personal qualification increment must be explained to the shop steward and the personnel. The accounts in question are given annually on either group, company or workplace-level, according to the employer's discretion. The grounds for payment must be made available to all employees.

5. Availability increment

A locality-specific or unit-specific availability increment can be paid on the basis of the availability of labour.

6. Quality bonus

An employee or a group of employees can be paid a quality bonus for work of a particularly high quality based on the quality system applied by the employer or some other quality indicator.

Section 2 Cost-of-living grading

1. The collective agreement includes pay scales for the metropolitan area (Helsinki, Espoo, Vantaa and Kauniainen) and the rest of Finland (other municipalities according to the cost-of-living index regions I and II).

Section 3 Service increments

1. An employee's basic salary pursuant to the collective agreement will increase in accordance with the pay scale appended here after 5, 8 and 11 service years entitling the employee to a service increment.

(The amounts of the experience increment steps vary, depending on the G pay level and the service increment step, from slightly less than 3% to slightly less than 5%, calculated from the basic salary).

2. At the beginning of the employment relationship, when making the employment contract, the employer and employee must review the employee's possible period of service with an entitlement to a service increment. In this context, the employee must present the necessary service details prior to the granting of the increment. If the employment relationship continues, any subsequent increments are granted by the employer. The entitlement to a service increment begins from the beginning of the month following the right's achievement.
3. Service that carries an entitlement to a service increment means such work in the service of one's own employer, and other similar work, in which the working hours have been, on average, at least 19 hours a week. All calendar months in employment relationships that have lasted for a minimum of 14 workdays, and for which the employee has earned annual holidays, are taken into account.

Similar work or part-time work, entailing on average less than 19 hours a week and carried out to one's own employer, and employment relationships that have lasted less than 14 days carried out after 1 February 2000 must be accounted for as carrying an entitlement to a service increment in the relevant working hours' proportion to full working hours. When assessing their impact, it is enough for the employer to form an assessment of the right magnitude with regard to how many full months of service increment accumulation the employee's part-time and temporary work accord with.

Part-time and temporary work performed prior to 1 February 2000 may also be taken into account according to the same principle.

4. If the employee has experience of other than similar work, it can be counted as carrying an entitlement to a service increment insofar as the employer deems it to add to the employee's qualifications for the work.

Section 4 Trainees, summer employees, young employees, exceptionally simple work and messengers

1. An agreement on a trainee period can be made with a student of the field; the pay during such a trainee period is at least 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question.

The agreement on pay with an employee in apprenticeship training can specify the pay to be 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question. However, the salary of an employee who begins apprenticeship training with their current employer may not be reduced in the current job.

2. An agreement on a summer job for the period between 15 May and 15 September can be made with a summer employee less than 25 years of age; the pay is at least 75% of the standard pay grade for the task in question. This provision is not applicable if the hired summer employee is a qualified substitute.
3. a) The parties to the collective agreement want to do their part to promote the employment opportunities of the employment agency's (TE Office) long-term unemployed entitled to wage subsidies, difficult to place and in danger of marginalisation.

An agreement with this kind of an employee, whose employment relationship is preceded by an at least 12-month uninterrupted period of unemployment, can be made, for a maximum period of 6 months, on a salary that is at least 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question.

The agreement aims to strengthen the person's life management and prevent marginalisation through work and the improvement of their fitness and readiness for work.

3. b) An agreement with an employee less than 25 years of age, who has less than six months worth of work experience entitling them to a service increment and who has been unemployed for at least six months during the past year, can be made, for a maximum period of six months, on a salary that is at least 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question.
4. If an employee's tasks are, exceptionally, fundamentally simpler or less independent than the pay group's basic tasks, or if the employee lacks the qualifications required for the tasks, due to which they are not able to carry out all of the relevant duties in full, the minimum pay can be determined as being one G pay grade lower than the minimum pay grade of the pay group in question.

Employers must present the grounds for the use of a pay grade lower than the minimum pay grade in writing, after the matter has been discussed with the shop steward or, in the absence of a shop steward, together with the employees.

5. A messenger's salary may be at most 5% lower than a salary pursuant to the lowest official pay according to the valid G pay scale.

Section 5 Part-time employees

1. The monthly salary of a part-time employee with a monthly salary is determined in proportion to the weekly working hours agreed with the employee and the maximum weekly working hours applicable to equivalent work pursuant to the collective agreement. However, calculated according to this method, the minimum pay of a part-time employee who works, on average, less than 19 hours a week at most is increased by 5 per cent, unless is it a result of the employee's own initiative that the working hours remain below 19 hours a week.
2. The hourly pay of a part-time employee with an hourly salary is calculated by dividing a monthly salary applicable to equivalent work by the divisor pursuant to section 11 of the collective agreement.

Section 6 Replacement

1. When an employee carries out work of a pay grade higher than their normal work in the capacity of a replacement, performing a material portion of the tasks included in the work, the employee is paid a salary equal to at least the replacement work's pay grade pursuant to the collective agreement for a period of replacement in excess of two weeks and, in annual holiday replacements, for a replacement period in excess of a month.
2. When the employee carries out their own work and, per agreement, the majority of another employee's tasks alongside, the employee is paid a raised salary for a period of replacement in excess of two weeks and, in annual holiday replacements, for a replacement period in excess of a month. The amount of this raised salary is agreed between the employer and employee prior to the replacement. The compensation must exceed the compensation paid for an equivalent replacement duty under subsection 1.

3. Any replacement duties carried out over a period of six months are added together when assessing whether the two weeks or month has been exceeded.

Section 7 Sheltered employment

This agreement does not apply to sheltered work.

Section 8 Validity

This pay agreement is valid as part of the collective agreement between the signatory organisations and will terminate without a separate notice when the collective agreement comes to an end.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

PAY AGREEMENT'S TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

The transitional provisions are complied with when taking into use the remuneration system of the collective agreement for the private social services sector in lieu of a previously applied system of remuneration.

Section 1 Placement into pay grades

1. Employees are placed into the pay groups and G pay grades of the new remuneration system according to their work's demands after the matter has been negotiated on between the employer and the relevant employees or their shop steward.
2. The objective is unanimity on the correct pay grade for the work performed by each employee.
3. If the official salary pursuant to the G pay grade selected for an employee remains lower than the employee's salary at the moment of transition, the difference is paid as a transition increment, provided that the excess is not based on the demands of the work or personal qualifications.
4. The parties may, at the transition phase, turn to a signatory organisation, if necessary, but the goal is for the transition to the new system to be implemented locally, as far as possible. The transitional instructions pursuant to the transitional provisions of the collective agreement valid before 1998 remain in effect.
5. Should the pay raises pursuant to the transitional provisions, including their pay grade adjustments pursuant to this section, result in a more than 6% pay rise with regard to some employees, the payment of the portion of pay rise in excess of 6% can be postponed by no more than six months as of the transition to the social services sector's system of remuneration.
6. Employees whose salary at the time of the transition exceeds the pay pursuant to pay grade G 32 are above the pay groups.

The salary of an employee covered by the scope of a collective agreement above the pay groups is paid as a personal salary, which is raised according to the same principles as the salaries of those covered by the scope of the pay grouping.

Section 2 Calculation of service increments

1. Any service entitling an employee to a service increment is calculated according to the previous method until the transition to the social services sector's system of remuneration. The creditable service time may not, however, fall below the service time pursuant to the social services sector's calculation method.

The transition to the calculation method of the social services sector takes place after this. At this time, all years of service that have previously been or should have been credited to an employee in the employment relationship are credited to the employee.

Section 3 Salary guarantee and increments

1. No one's salary will be lowered due to a change in the system of remuneration. In other respects, an employee's minimum pay and pay increments will, in the future, be determined in accordance with the new system of remuneration.
2. The euro-denominated amounts of increments related to peripheral regions, cold regions, archipelago regions, etc., and not pertaining to the demands of the work or personal qualifications, will become a part of an employee's personal wages.
3. Increments based on the demands of the work or personal qualifications will continue to be paid according to the previous practice.
4. Any possible increments granted for a fixed period of time will end in accordance with the original agreement.
5. If an employee's pay grade is raised, the increment paid in excess of the official salary can be abandoned in part or in full, but nevertheless by no more than the amount of a pay grade increase insofar as the grounds for the increment no longer exist.

6. Increments based on the demands of the work or personal qualifications will also remain in effect when an employee achieves a new service increment step. Portions in excess of the official salary based on other grounds can be reduced when the employee reaches a new service increment step by, at maximum, an amount equal to the service increment increase, unless the parties have agreed or agree to retain the excess.

Section 4 Validity

1. The transitional provisions of this pay agreement are valid as part of the collective agreement between the signatory organisations and will terminate without a separate notice when the collective agreement comes to an end.

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

PAY GROUPING OF THE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR

(The principles for placing jobs in pay groups and for the use of minimum pays and excesses are given in section 1 (p. x) of the pay agreement.)

Pay group A (assisting duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G12A

The work does not require vocational training. The know-how is gained through on-the-job guidance. Clear work instructions and routines.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: orderly, day-care centre assistant kitchen and property personnel: kitchen help, departmental assistant, cleaner; administrative personnel: assisting office work, mailing, running errands.

Pay group B (basic duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G16B in the metropolitan area, G15B in the rest of Finland and, as of 1 September 2021, G16B

The know-how is gained through on-the-job learning or short courses.

The work is based on defined instructions, but the tasks are more individual than in pay group A.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: care assistant, home help, school aide, camp counsellor kitchen and property personnel: cook, kitchen/catering worker, ward domestic, matron in very small units, caretaker, porter administrative personnel: switchboard operator, routine office work (such as invoicing, etc.), responsibility for copying services, postal services, phone services.

Pay group C (professional duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G19C in the metropolitan area, G18C in the rest of Finland and, as of 1 September 2021, G19C

The work requires at least a vocational degree or equivalent know-how.

The work is varying and performed independently according to regulations and/or general instructions.

The work is made up of independent parts.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: practical nurse, children's nurse, day care nurse, rehabilitation assistant, private household worker, psychiatric nurse, nurse for mentally handicapped, craft leader, leisure activities instructor

kitchen and property personnel: matron, repairman, warehouseman, cleaning supervisor administrative personnel: responsibility for invoicing and collection, responsibility for payroll accounting, responsibility for the accounting of a small unit.

Pay group D (demanding professional duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G22D

The work requires, at minimum, a degree from a polytechnic/college or equivalent know-how.

The work is based on independent solutions within the framework of the authority provided.

The work is an independent whole made up of different parts.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: nurse, kindergarten teacher, social welfare worker (polytechnic), child and youth welfare worker, social welfare supervisor, professional of elderly care, supervisor for mentally handicapped, rehabilitation supervisor, occupational therapist, physiotherapist;

kitchen and property personnel: nutritional manager; administrative personnel: responsibility for a large unit's accounting and the preparation of financial statements, responsibility for a large unit's money transactions and the operation of subsidiary cash desks.

Pay group E (specialist duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G24E

The work requires, at minimum, a degree from a polytechnic/college and often a university degree or equivalent know-how. (If the employee has the requisite master's degree, the minimum pay grade accords with pay group F)

The work is performed independently, based on planned operations or the specialist position, and may entail operational, financial or personnel responsibilities.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: supervisory duties or specialist duties requiring theoretical mastery of the field, head/charge nurse/supervisor in charge (supervisory position), manager of day-care centre/children's home, social worker, social therapist;

kitchen and property personnel: kitchen and property duties that are more demanding and entail more responsibility than the previously mentioned pay groups; administrative personnel: responsibility for the operation and financial management of the entire office in other than small units.

Pay group F (demanding specialist duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G27F

The work requires a university degree or equivalent know-how.

The work is performed independently, based on operational management or the specialist position, and entails significant operational, financial or personnel responsibilities with profit responsibility.

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: demanding managerial duties or particularly demanding specialist duties requiring theoretical mastery of the field, manager of day-care centre/children's home, head/charge nurse/supervisor in charge, head social worker (a supervisory position in the aforementioned duties and profit responsibility in large units).

PROCEDURES FOR LOCAL AGREEMENT

Section 1

Local agreements on derogations from the regulations of the valid collective agreement can be made in accordance with this agreement. A local agreement can be made within the framework provided by law and the collective agreement.

- a) In accordance with the procedural rules of this agreement, an agreement can be made on the sections of the collective agreement which refer to local agreements.
- b) In financial and production-related problem situations, an agreement on financial benefits can be made in accordance with the protocol appended to local agreements.
- c) Any mention on the possibility for agreements in the collective agreement which lack a reference to local agreements allow for agreements between the employer and employee without the procedural rules of this agreement.

Section 2

The negotiating and contracting parties can consist of the employer bound by the collective agreement and the shop steward or, in the absence of a shop steward, the employees together or a representative elected by them as well as a registered, company-specific employees' association or equivalent.

The parties to the collective agreement can also agree on local derogations to the collective agreement.

The employer must appoint its own negotiator working under the appropriate contract authorisations.

Section 3

The proposal concerning the local agreement must indicate in writing the section of the collective agreement it pertains to and present the grounds for derogating from the collective agreement.

To be valid, the local agreement must be made in writing and specify whom the agreement concerns, which section of the collective agreement it pertains to and what has been agreed.

The agreement may remain valid for a fixed term or until further notice. In the latter case, the agreement may be terminated with a three-month period of notice. After a fixed-term agreement has been valid for a year, it can always be terminated with a three-month period of notice. However, if the agreed arrangement is bound to a specific period of time, the arrangement will continue until the end of this period.

Section 4

A local agreement on working hours must be sent to the signatory organisations whose members the agreement concerns for their information.

The parties to the collective agreement may nevertheless dispute a local agreement if it agrees on matters not falling under the scope of the agreement. In such cases, the parties to the collective agreement may amend the local agreement or to declare it invalid. The amended local agreement will enter into force on the date agreed between the parties to the collective agreement.

Section 5

This agreement is valid as part of the collective agreement between the signatory organisations and will terminate without a separate notice when the collective agreement comes to an end. Any valid local agreement will nevertheless remain valid as agreed.

Section 6

Any disputes concerning the interpretation of this agreement and the interpretation of any local agreements based on this agreement are to be resolved in the same manner as disputes concerning the collective agreement.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

PROTOCOL ON LOCAL AGREEMENTS

Section 1

The signatory organisations agree that the minimum terms concerning the pay and other financial benefits in the collective agreement and pay agreement signed by parties may be derogated from locally as agreed upon in this agreement.

The agreement may concern the following financial benefits:

- Holiday bonus – The agreement may concern the amount of the holiday bonus, its exchange for days off and the time of its payment.
- Wages – An employee's pay can be agreed to be reduced by, at maximum, an amount equal to the removal of the holiday bonus. However, the pay cannot be agreed to be lower than the basic salary level in the same cost-of-living grade as the employee's tasks.
- Overtime, Sunday work, Saturday work, evening and night work, stand-by and emergency compensation: Changes to the determination grounds or levels of compensation can be agreed only by the approval of the employees' organisations covered by the scope of the agreement.

A simultaneous savings agreement pursuant to more than one section can be entered into only by the approval of the employees' organisations covered by the scope of the agreement.

Section 2

An agreement pursuant to this protocol can concern a company or a part thereof, and the contracting parties are the employer bound by the collective agreement and the shop steward or, in the absence of a shop steward, the employees together or through a representative elected by them, as well as a registered, company-specific employees' association.

An employee's approval is a prerequisite for the agreement's entry into force with regard to the employee in question. However, the shop steward has the right, at the consent of the majority of the employees he or she represents, to agree on the holiday bonus in a manner binding on all employees represented.

Section 3

The agreement is subject to the existence of grounds pursuant to Chapter 5, section 2 or Chapter 7, section 3 of the Employment Contracts Act (i.e. what are referred to as financial or production-related grounds).

The agreement cannot be made on the basis of estimates, such as budgets, alone, unless the grounds already exist.

When negotiating on the agreement referred to in this protocols, the employer complies with the Act on Cooperation within Undertakings with regard to the provision of information required in the negotiations as well as with the cooperation agreement of the federations and central organisations. When necessary, the parties may rely on the help of experts.

Section 4

The agreement referred to in this protocol is made for a fixed period of time and a maximum of one year at a time.

If the agreement has been made on the condition that an employee covered by its scope will not be made redundant or laid off during the term of the agreement, the agreement will be cancelled immediately with regard to an employee made redundant or laid off in breach of the agreement.

Section 5

The parties to the collective agreement must be notified of a local agreement pursuant to this protocol.

The parties to the collective agreement have the right to dispute a local agreement concerning financial benefits within a month of having been notified thereof. In such cases, the parties to the collective agreement have the opportunity to amend the local agreement or to declare it invalid. The amended local agreement will enter into force on the date agreed between the parties to the collective agreement.

Section 6 Survival agreement

The parties to the collective agreement cannot dispute or invalidate a local agreement if said agreement has been made in accordance with this protocol and meets the following additional requirements.

Parties

- the employer and the signatory association's shop steward
- an employee approves the agreement for their part

Requirements:

- Extremely weighty and exceptional financial reasons in situations where the agreement, together with other measures to be implemented, is necessary to secure the employer's operational preconditions and jobs.
- In the background are financial difficulties which would lead to reductions in the workforce on financial grounds.
- The grounds are noted jointly and locally:
 - the need for and dimensioning of measures
 - effect on surviving the crisis together with other measures
- Gaining a competitive advantage in relation to other companies in the industry are not acceptable grounds.
- An employee who has made the agreement cannot be laid off or be made part-time or redundant on financial and production-related grounds during the validity of the agreement or within two months of its termination.
 - If the employer acts contrary to the aforementioned regulation, the agreement will be cancelled with immediate effect and the employer compensates the employee for the agreed saving.
- The way in which the workplace's management and owners commit to the improvement of the company's operational preconditions must be agreed. The saving measures must concern the company's management and personnel in equal measure.

Form and duration of the agreement

- in writing
- if of a fixed-term, valid for no longer than a year, but in any case no longer than until the end of the valid collective agreement.

The agreement may concern the following financial benefits.

- Holiday bonus – The agreement may concern the amount of the holiday bonus, its exchange for days off and the time of its payment.
- Wages – An employee's pay can be agreed to be reduced by, at maximum, an amount equal to the removal of the holiday bonus. However, the pay cannot be agreed to be lower than the basic salary level in the same cost-of-living grade as the employee's tasks.

Improvement of company's financial situation

- the agreement can be terminated in the middle of the agreement period with a three-month period of notice, provided that the company's financial situation is subject to unforeseen, material improvement compared to the time when the agreement was made.

Miscellaneous:

- the shop steward is provided with all necessary information in writing well in advance of the negotiations' commencement, and the information must be supplemented as necessary during the negotiations
- the shop steward has the right to consult the employer's financial management experts, for example.

Section 7

In other respects, the parties abide by the procedures for local agreements.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

TRAINING AGREEMENT

Section1 Training work group

The training work groups between the signatory parties have been established for the purposes of implementing the union training referred to in the agreement.

The training work group approves courses for one calendar year at a time. If necessary, courses can also be approved in the middle of a calendar year.

Prior to the decision to approve a course, the training work group is provided with an account on the course's curriculum, time, venue, target group and any other information possibly requested by the training work group. Approved courses give the training work group a chance to monitor the teaching/coaching.

The unions inform members of the courses approved by the training work group for the following year no later than two months before the start of the first course, whenever possible.

Section 2 Post-graduate professional education, further vocational training and retraining

When the employer provides employees with vocational training or sends employees to training events related to their profession, the expenses arising from the training and the loss of regular working hours are compensated for. The training is deemed equal to working hours as required by the Working Hours Act.

Whenever possible, training events should be accounted for in the preparation of work shift schedules in such a way that a training event would not coincide with an employee's day off, unless otherwise agreed. If the training takes place outside of working hours, the time spent is not considered to constitute working hours, but employees will be compensated for any direct expenses they incur.

If the employer has paid for a participant's expenses in full, i.e. for food (two meals per a full day, one meal for a partial day) and accommodation, the employer is not obligated to pay daily allowances.

Section 3 Shared training

The shared training required by cooperation agreements is usually provided workplace-specifically. Cooperation training is also provided by the federations and central organisations of the labour market, or jointly by their membership organisations, and by various cooperation bodies, such as the Centre for Occupational Safety. Participation in training is agreed upon workplace-specifically in a cooperation body or, in the absence of such, between the employer and the shop steward. Participation in training is compensated for in the same way as training pursuant to section 2.

4 Trade union training

1. Retention of employment relationship and notification periods

Employees are provided, without an interruption to the employment relationship, an opportunity to take part in training approved by the training work group and lasting no longer than a month, provided that the need for training has been jointly noted by the employer and the employee seeking to attend the course and that the participation can take place without substantial adverse effects on the company. In a negative case, the shop steward is notified, no later than 10 prior to the start of the course, of the reason why granting the leave would result in substantial adverse effects.

Shop stewards nevertheless have the right to attend, for a duration of at least six calendar days out of a year, courses of the right level and related to their cooperation duties.

Deputy shop stewards have the right to attend, for a duration of three calendar days out of a year, courses of the right level and related to their cooperation duties.

The training work group may deem a particular course necessary for particular persons of member companies elected to a position trust. The signatory organisations emphasise particularly the usefulness of courses that promote local agreements.

The signatory organisations stress that the need for training is particularly high with regard to new shop stewards or situations involving a company's local agreements, and that this should be taken into account when granting training or educational leaves.

The unions consider it important in other respects, too, that shop stewards are reserved a chance, whenever possible, to participate in training apt to increase their qualifications in the performance of their duties as shop stewards.

If the company prepares a training plan, union training should be agreed on in this training plan.

The notification concerning an intention to take part in a course must be made as early as possible. If the course lasts for no more than a week, the notification must be given three weeks before the start of the course and, when the course is longer, at least six weeks before the start of the course.

Industrial safety training should be aimed at industrial safety delegates, in particular.

2. Compensation

Shop stewards, industrial safety delegates and members of industrial safety committees may take part in the courses mentioned in the previous paragraph and approved by the training work group without a reduction to their actual, regular wages.

However, with regard to shop stewards, the loss of earnings is not compensated for with regard to a period longer than a month and, in terms of the others, with regard to a period longer than two weeks. The course being related to the participant's cooperation duties in the company is a further prerequisite for compensation for the loss of earnings, as is the training being proven necessary in accordance with this agreement.

In addition to shop stewards, losses of earnings are also compensated to the chairpersons of registered affiliated associations or workplace departments, if they work in a company with at least 100 office workers and if the registered affiliated association or workplace department has at least 20 members.

The parties note that it may be necessary for the deputy industrial safety delegates and the members of cooperation bodies of larger companies to participate in courses related to their cooperation duties. The parties recommend that this opportunity be given, provided that it can be arranged without causing substantial adverse effects on the company.

Section 5 Social benefits

Participation in a trade union training event referred to in section 4 does not impair annual holiday, retirement or service increment benefits or any other comparable benefits.

Section 6 Validity

This agreement is valid as part of the collective agreement between the federations and central organisations.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

SHOP STEWARD AGREEMENT

Introduction

The shop steward system aims to promote the proper implementation and practical application of the agreements agreed on between the parties. It aims to resolve disputes arising between the employer and employees with regard to the application and interpretation of the agreements in an expedient and fast manner. Other key issues include dealing with issues between the employer and employees in relation to employment relationships and the maintenance and promotion of good labour relations.

Appropriately organised and managed local negotiation procedures promote the workplace's cooperation activities, the achievement of the company's goals and the increase of employees' safety and satisfaction.

To realise the aforementioned objectives, the signatory organisations have entered into the following shop steward agreement:

Sections 4(1–10), 7(2) and 8(7) of this agreement concern industrial safety delegates.

Section 1 Scope of the agreement

This agreement applies to employers covered by the scope of the collective agreement for the private social services sector and their employees who belong in an employee union that has signed this agreement.

Section 2 Shop steward

General

1. Shop stewards must be employees of the relevant company and familiar with the workplace's conditions. They must be members of a signatory organisation to the collective agreement and work in an industry covered by the scope of the collective agreement.

Shop steward

2. The terms “shop steward” refers to a shop steward, deputy shop steward, chief shop steward and deputy chief shop steward elected by organised employees bound by the collective agreement.
3. Shop stewards are elected by company employees who fall under the scope of the same collective agreement and are organised in a signatory organisation to the collective agreement or an affiliated association thereof. The right to a shop steward lies with a signatory organisation, but not its affiliated association.

Regional or unit-specific shop stewards

4. Employees of large or regionally decentralised companies have the right to elect shop stewards of the same signatory organisation as referred to in this agreement for the company’s independent regional or operational units. This can be done when the number of employees, the nature of the workplace and the actual shop steward’s opportunities for meeting employees so require. The company’s cooperation system may also be taken into account.

The number and operational areas of shop stewards are agreed on company-specifically, taking into account the aforementioned points and the operational conditions, such as the principles of time use pursuant to section 7. The agreement is made between the company and a signatory organisation or the shop steward authorised by the signatory organisation.

Regional shop steward systems must ensure the shop steward’s factual chances of managing the duties of a shop steward. Shop stewards must have an opportunity to familiarise themselves with the offices and units of their area, visit the units they represent and maintain a dialogue with the employees they represent. A shop steward’s factual chance of managing the duties involved delimits the size of the area and the number of the units represented.

Application instructions for agreeing on the shop steward system of a large or regionally decentralised company as referred to in section 2(4) of the shop steward agreement.

These instructions aim to promote the inception of an agreement:

- A large or regionally decentralised employer is obligated, without undue delay, to agree on a shop steward system when the conditions of section 2(4) of the shop steward agreement are met and when a signatory organisation to the collective agreement representing employees or a shop steward authorised by one so suggest.
- An employer may also initiate negotiations on the matter.
- All parties to the matter must investigate what the operational conditions of the shop stewards of the signatory organisation in question are and the regional division within the framework of which the shop stewards have a factual opportunity to take care of their duties.
- The negotiations are held separately with each signatory organisation or the shop steward authorised by them.
- A shop steward's operational conditions and thereby the regional division is impacted by, among other things, the number of the employees and operating units represented as well as the extent of the geographical area. The area may also be a specific unit.
- The shop steward system must be agreed on well in advance of the shop steward election, so that the election can be organised in accordance with the agreed regional division.
- The objective is to reach an understanding on the operational conditions and a suitable regional division.
- If an understanding on the shop steward system is not reached, the employer and the employees' signatory organisation or a representative authorised by the signatory organisation must make a record of their own proposal on the regional divisions and operational conditions as well as the grounds for them. In such a case, the parties may refer the matter to their unions or federations.
- For as long as there is no agreement on the shop stewards' regional divisions and operational conditions, the previously approved agreement or earlier practice applies. An agreement may also be made on the use of a unit-specific shop steward system.
- The election of a shop steward can be carried out at the workplace.

Chief shop steward

5. “Chief shop steward” means a company-specific shop steward covered by the scope of the industry of the collective agreement whose sphere of operations includes several regional or unit-specific shop stewards of the same signatory organisation.
6. In companies where several regional or unit-specific shop stewards of the same signatory organisation have been elected, one of them can be appointed chief shop steward, or a separate election of and election method for chief shop steward can be agreed on.
7. The chief shop steward acts as the representative of the employees of their signatory organisation in local negotiations with the employer concerning all of the company’s jobs.
8. If no chief shop steward has been elected and several shop stewards of the same signatory organisation have been elected for different workplaces, a company-specific agreement can be made on one of the shop stewards acting as the employees’ representative in local negotiations with the employer when the matter concerns all of the jobs in the company. In such cases, the employer is informed which of the shop stewards handles tasks of this kind.

Deputy shop steward

9. Shop stewards are elected deputies; the deputies act as the shop stewards’ substitutes when the shop stewards are indisposed. During such times, the deputy shop steward has the shop steward’s rights and obligations. The employer must be informed when a deputy shop steward is acting as a substitute for the shop steward.

Situations involving change

10. When the operations of the company or an operational unit thereof contract or expand materially in size, or in connection with a transfer of business, merger, incorporation or a comparable organisational change of a material nature, the size of the shop steward organisation is brought to correspond to the changed size and structure of the company or its operational unit, in accordance with the principles of this agreement.

Section 3 Election and notifications of shop steward

1. The election of a shop steward can be carried out at the workplace. All employees organised with a signatory organisation must be reserved a chance to participate in the election. The organisation and execution of the election may nevertheless not disturb work.
2. The election times and places must be agreed upon with the employer no later than seven days prior to the election's execution.
3. The execution of the election is primarily the responsibility of the shop steward or, should the shop steward be indisposed, their deputy. The time they spend in the execution of the election is deemed time spent in the duties of a shop steward.
4. The shop steward will inform the employer of the elected shop stewards in writing, under authorisation provided by the organisation. The employer must also be informed in writing about the resignation or dismissal of a shop steward.
5. The shop steward has the right, upon request, to receive written information from the employer on who acts as the employer's representative with regard to personnel group represented by the shop steward.

Section 4 Position of shop steward

1. In their employment relationship with the employer, shop stewards are in a position equal to all other employees. Shop stewards are obligated to personally comply with the general terms of work, working hours, the orders of management and the workplace's regulations, unless otherwise specified in this agreement.
2. A shop steward's opportunities to develop and advance in their profession may not be impaired due to the task of shop steward.
3. An employee acting as shop steward may not, when they are carrying out this duty or because of this duty, be transferred to a job which pays less than the job the shop steward was in when elected shop steward. Nor may they be transferred to a less demanding job.

A shop steward may not be subjected to pressure or dismissed from their job due to their role as shop steward.

4. If the actual job of a chief shop steward impedes the performance of their duties as shop steward, they must, insofar as possible, be provided with other work. In such cases, attention is paid to the conditions of the company or its operational unit and the professional skills of the shop steward. The arrangement may result in a lowering of their earnings.
5. The wage development of a shop steward who has been entirely relieved of their job must correspond with the wage development occurring in the company.
6. If the company's workforce is downsized or laid off due to financial or production-related reasons, the order followed must be of the kind which ensures that the shop steward is the last employee targeted by such measures. If the shop steward cannot be offered work that accords with their occupation or qualifications, this regulation may be derogated from.

Should a shop steward deem that they have been made redundant or laid off in contradiction to the aforementioned regulations, they have the right to request that the matter be resolved between the organisations.

7. The employment contract of a shop steward cannot be terminated due to grounds related to the shop steward's person without compliance with Chapter 7, section 10, subsection 1 of the Employment Contracts Act, which requires the consent of a majority of employees. This is investigated by a signatory organisation party to the collective agreement.
8. A shop steward's employment relationship may not be cancelled contrary to the Employment Contracts Act.

When assessing the grounds for cancelling a shop steward's employment contract, the shop steward may not be placed in a position inferior to other employees.

9. In the event that the employment contract of a shop steward is cancelled and the shop steward contests the cancellation, the employer pays an amount equal to the salary of one month, provided that the relevant proceedings are instituted within four weeks of the employment contract's cancellation.
10. The regulations of sections 1–9 also apply to industrial safety delegates.

Chief shop steward's subsequent protection

The regulations of sections 1–9 must be applied to an employee who has acted as a chief shop steward for a further six months after their task as chief shop steward has come to an end.

Notice of termination

A shop steward is notified of the termination of an employment relationship on grounds related to the person no later than a month before the beginning of the period of notice pursuant to the collective agreement. The notice concerning the termination of the employment relationship must indicate the reason for it. The employer shall also notify the employee organisation of the notice of termination.

Compensation

If the employment contract of a shop steward has been terminated in breach of this agreement, the employer must pay a salary of at least 3 months and at most 30 months as compensation. The compensation must be determined according to the same grounds as provided in Chapter 12, section 2 of the Employment Contracts Act. The fact that rights granted by this agreement have been breached must be accounted for as a factor increasing the compensation.

If a court finds that conditions for continuing the employment relationship or the restitution of an employment relationship that has already ended exist, and the employment relationship is nevertheless not continued, the failure to do so must be accounted for as a particularly weighty reason when determining the amount of the compensation.

The signatory organisations note that, according to the labour market's standard practice, the minimum compensation for the termination of a shop steward's employment relationship contrary to the shop steward agreement is the salary for 10 months, unless there are particularly weighty grounds for a lower compensation.

Section 5 Tasks of a shop steward

1. A shop steward's principal task is to act as the representative of employees organised under the relevant signatory organisation to the collective agreement in matters pertaining to the application of the collective agreement.

2. The shop steward represents the aforementioned employees in matters concerning the application of work legislation and, generally, in issues related to relations between the employer and employees and the company's development.
3. The shop steward is also tasked with contributing to the maintenance and development of the negotiations and cooperation between the company and its personnel.

Section 6 Shop steward's right to receive information

1. If uncertainty or disagreements arise with regard to employees' salaries or some other issues related to the employment relationship, the shop steward must be provided with all information with a bearing on the investigation into the case in question.
2. The shop steward is entitled to receive, in writing or in some other agreed form, the following details of the company's employees represented by the shop steward:
 1. The employee's first name and last name and workplace.
 2. The date on which new employees and employees who have been made redundant or whose employment relationship has been changed into a part-time employment relationship and employees who have been laid off entered into service. In terms of fixed-term employment relationships, the shop steward is informed of the agreed duration of and grounds for the employment relationship.
 3. The pay group and pay grade in which an employee or the work performed by the employee belongs.
 4. The number of the company's full-time and part-time employees, twice a year. This also applies to employees who have worked during the past six months and are called to work separately, and other temporary staff.
 5. If the employer falls under the scope of the Act on Cooperation within Undertakings, the shop steward must also be provided with all information that is to be provided to the personnel's representative in accordance with the aforementioned Act.

6. Material information related to negotiations involving local agreements in advance, to allow for sufficient familiarisation with the material. On request, the equivalent, necessary additional information during the negotiations. On request, a chance to hear experts in the service of the company who are material in terms of the local agreement negotiations and, when so agreed, other experts as well.
3. The shop steward has the right to receive the information referred to in subsections 1 and 3 once a year, when the sector's collective agreement has been made, and, after the changes attributable to this have been effected in the company, information about the employees in an employment relationship with the company during this time. Regarding new employees, the shop steward has the right to receive the information mentioned in subsections 1–3 at least every quarter of the year.

Upon their request, the shop steward will be provided with an account of the kind of information collected in connection with hiring.

If several shop stewards, pursuant to section 2 above, have been elected in the company, the unions can agree on the principles according to which the information is divided between the shop stewards.

4. The shop steward has the same right as a shop steward referred to in legislation to study a list of emergency and Sunday work, as well as overtime, and the increased wages paid for them.
5. Shop stewards must ensure the confidentiality of the information they have received on the aforementioned grounds for the purpose of the carrying out their duties.

7 Section 7 Exemption from work granted to shop steward and industrial safety delegate

1. Shop stewards are reserved enough exemption from work for them to be able to carry out their duties as shop steward. This means accounting for the number of employees represented, the location of units, the company's cooperation system, the extent of the cooperation activities and any changes to the personnel's position brought about by business operations. The adequacy is assessed at necessary intervals upon request and especially in connection with significant changes occurring in the company or shop steward activities.

The signatory organisations emphasise that local agreements, and particularly the related preparations, usually require an exemption from work that is clearly more extensive than what is normally required.

The employer and shop steward agree on when the aforementioned exemption from work is granted. In this context, the parties account for the company's operational preconditions and the possibility for performing the shop steward's duties in the appropriate manner.

Unless there are reasons for some other assessment, the exemption time of a shop steward is as follows, depending on the number of employees represented:

Number of employees	Hours of exemption per three weeks
2-4	2-6 hours
5-25	3-7 hours
26-50	7-11 hours
51-100	11-15 hours
101-200	14-20 hours
201-300	18-28 hours
301-800	26-52 hours
800-	entirely exempt from work

The exemption from work does not reduce the amount of the shop steward compensation.

2. An employer must exempt an industrial safety delegate of their regular tasks for the purpose of carrying out the duties of an industrial safety delegate for such a reasonable amount of time which the industrial safety delegate needs to carry out said duties, unless a valid reason temporarily prevents such exemption.

A determination of the time for which an industrial safety delegate must be exempted from their work must account for the number of the employees they represent, the workplace's geographic extent, the number of the workplaces involved and the nature of the work carried out in them, factors impacting the amount of the industrial safety delegate's duties attributable to the organisation of work as well as other risk, hazard and workload factors referred to in the Occupational Safety and Health Act impacting employees' safety and their physical and mental health.

Section 8 Loss of earnings and compensation

1. The employer compensates shop stewards for the earnings lost by them when they are either engaged in local negotiations with the employer's representative or carrying out other activities agreed on with the employer.

A shop steward's earnings may not decrease due to them carrying out their duties as shop steward. The compensation for lost earnings accounts for hourly increments in the same manner as in holiday pay.

2. When the shop steward carries out work agreed with the employer outside their regular working hours, such time is subject to the payment of compensation for overtime; alternatively, a union-specific agreement or an agreement between the employer and the shop steward may specify additional compensation of some other kind.

Travel expenses

3. When a shop steward travels, under orders from the employer, to carry out tasks agreed on with the employer, the shop steward is compensated for the travel expenses in accordance with the policy followed in the company.

Shop steward compensation

4. A shop steward is paid a shop steward compensation on the basis of the number of the workplace's employees represented and falling under the scope of the collective agreement:

Number of employees represented	€ per month, 1 August 2020
2-4	24
5-25	47
26-50	54
51-100	65
101-200	79
201-300	119
301-	140

Chief shop steward compensation

5. The compensation of a chief shop steward elected in a large or regionally decentralised company (section 2(6)) is €100 as of 1 August 2020, unless the shop steward compensation based on the number of employees represented by the shop steward is higher.

Compensation of deputy shop steward

6. When a deputy shop steward carries out the tasks of the shop steward for at least a period of one month, the compensation is paid to the deputy instead of the shop steward.jasta hänelle.

Compensation of industrial safety delegate

7. An industrial safety delegate is paid a compensation for carrying out industrial safety tasks pursuant to the regular number of the workplace's employees as follows:

Number of employees represented	€ per month, 1 August 2020
20–29	25
30–100	40
101–200	55
201–300	72
301–	89

Section 9 Working conditions

Shop stewards are entitled to storage space for the documents and office supplies needed for their duties in such a way that only they have access to the information (such as cabinet that can be locked).

Shop stewards are entitled to use their employer's phone or mobile phone to carry out their duties as shop steward.

If necessary, shop stewards have the right to use, without charge, available and appropriate office premises for carrying out their duties as shop stewards. They also have the right to use the conventional office supplies in such office premises for carrying out the shop steward duties.

The concept of conventional office supplies also covers any computer devices in use in the company ad the community and the related software and the internet connection (email). Practical arrangements are agreed on locally.

Section 10 Training of shop stewards

1. The unions consider it important that shop stewards are reserved a chance, whenever possible, to participate in training apt to increase their qualifications in the performance of their duties as shop stewards.

When a trade union training day coincides with a day which would be an ordinary working day for the shop steward, the union training period is considered working hours equal to the amount of an average working day in the work shift schedule.

Participation in trade union training does not reduce the right to professional training.

2. Participation in training has been agreed on in a separate training agreement valid between the organisations (p. x of the collective agreement).
3. Following the end of the shop steward duties of a chief shop steward, the chief shop steward and the employer together must find out whether the maintenance of the employee's professional skills in terms of their former job or an equivalent job requires professional training. The employer organises training based on the results of investigation. When deciding on the content of the training, attention is paid to exemption from work, the duration of the shop steward term and the changes that occurred in working methods during that period of time.

Section 11 Order of negotiations

1. Regarding questions involving the performance of work, an employee should immediately turn to supervisors and management.
2. The order of negotiations is determined according to section 32 of the collective agreement for the private social services sector.
3. If the dispute concerns the termination of the employment relationship of a shop steward referred to in this agreement, local negotiations and negotiation between federations and central organisations must be initiated and held immediately after the grounds for the termination have been contested.

Section 12 Validity of the agreement

This agreement is valid as part of the collective agreement between the federations and central organisations.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

ASSOCIATION PROTOCOL TO THE COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR

made between the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers and the Trade Union of Education (OAJ)

Section 1 Scope of the agreement

This agreement agrees on the terms of the service relationships of day-care centre managers, early childhood education teachers and special needs teachers who meet the qualification criteria and work in private day-care centres in the employment of the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers' member employers.

Section 2 Terms of the employment relationship

The aforementioned employees are subject to the collective agreement for the private social services sector, with the following specifications.

Section 3 Planning of working hours at day-care centres:

A sufficient portion of time of the working hours of an employee meeting the qualification criteria referred to above (38 hours 50 minutes per week until 30 August 2020 and 38 hours 20 minutes a week as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date) is used, in accordance with the instructions of the day-care centre in question, in parent-teacher conferences, meeting parents, the joint planning of activities, other planning and preparation of operations as well as in house calls.

It is generally deemed that roughly 13 per cent of the working hours of the educational personnel referred to in section 1 are spent on the planning of early childhood education's and preschool education's educational work, assessment and development tasks as well as the preparation of preschool and early childhood education plans. This is accounted for when planning the use of working hours and work shift schedules in day-care centres.

This planning, assessment and development work is carried out in accordance with the day-care centre's instructions as the individual work of an educational staff member as referred to in section 1 and partly as team and expert cooperation, accounting for early childhood education legislation and the fundamentals of the early childhood education plan.

Part of the working hours may be spent outside the workplace as per a supervisor's more detailed instructions.

The manager of a day-care centre involved in the teaching and education of groups of children must account for the time required for the management of the day-care centre and supervisory work when planning the use of their working hours.

Work deemed as overtime must be carried out primarily at the workplace and the time spent on it or the amount of work done must be accounted for reliably; in addition, overtime is subject to the employer's order.

Section 4 Extra days off

A person meeting the qualification criteria and working in the tasks of the manager of a day-care centre, early childhood education teacher or special needs teacher, whose right to an annual holiday does not exceed the right to annual holiday pursuant to the collective agreement, is granted one extra day off every year for each such two holiday credit months which include at least 14 days at work or annual holidays. The maximum number of extra days off granted per year, however, is five.

The start date for the credit period for the extra days off is determined by the employer. The credit period can accord either with the year of operation 1 August–31 July, the holiday credit year 1 April–31 March or a calendar year.

What is important is that the same credit period is applied to all employees. An employee who has worked in the relevant job for at least a year by the end of the credit period is granted five extra days off.

With the exception of annual holidays, other absences from work are not considered equal to days at work when calculating the aforementioned right to days off.

Example: If the employee came to their position on 1 December of the previous calendar year, they have earned three extra days off as referred to in this agreement by 30 June. The days off may be granted as soon as they have been earned.

Regarding part-time employees, the extra days off accumulate in a proportion equal to the employee's working hours in proportion to regular, full-time working hours. The extra days off accumulated by a part-time employee are rounded up to the nearest full day in accordance with the rounding-off instructions. When entering days off in a work shift schedule in advance, the regular working hours shorten in terms of each extra day off (7 hours 46 minutes until 30 August 2020 and 7 hours 40 minutes as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date). In terms of days off agreed on after the work shift schedule has been drawn up, the working hours shorten according to the working hours entered for the day off.

The period during which the extra days off are given is decided by the employer, usually on the basis of a proposal made by the employee. The employer must nevertheless ensure that the days off are given. In employment relationships valid until further notice, the days off are usually granted after the credit period.

If days off are given prior to the end of the credit period, their number may not exceed the number of days off accumulated by then. Days off can be given one or more days at a time, depending on the employer's discretion. Days off not received are not compensated for in money. If the days off are not given due to the end of the employment relationship, for example, the employee is not entitled to compensation in money.

Section 5 Working party

A joint working party of the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers and the Trade Union of Education (OAJ) will examine, during the term of the collective agreement and, if possible, by the end of 2021, the possible effects that the transfer of the collective agreement of the municipal sector's early childhood education teachers may have on the terms of their employment relationships and the implementation schedule of such effects.

Once the results of this examination are ready, the possible impact that the changes in the municipal sector will have on the content of the association protocol of the next collective agreement concerning the private social services sector's early childhood education teachers will be negotiated.

Section 6 Good labour relations obligation

All industrial actions concerning an individual provision of this agreement or this agreement in full or are prohibited. .

Section 7 Validity

The validity of this agreement begins on 1 April 2020 and is determined in accordance with the collective agreement for the private social services sector.

Helsinki, 26 June 2020

FINNISH ASSOCIATION OF PRIVATE CARE PROVIDERS
TRADE UNION OF EDUCATION (OAJ)

PROTOCOL ON COMPENSATION FOR TRAVEL EXPENSES AND WORKING HOURS IN THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR IN SITUATIONS WHERE THE EMPLOYEE HAS SEVERAL WORK LOCATIONS

1. The general principles concerning the reimbursement of travel expenses are determined in accordance with section 17 of the collective agreement for the private social services sector, pursuant either to the State Travel Regulations or the tax administration's decision.
2. If the determination of one fixed work location as the workplace is not justifiable, the workplace can be agreed to cover an area within which the work is normally carried out. In accordance with the travel policy applied, the right to daily allowance or a meal allowance is born only from business trips that extend outside the agreed area of work.
3. When agreeing on the area of work, the employee must nevertheless be defined a place equivalent to a fixed workplace as referred to in the travel policy. This can, for instance, be the location from which the employee picks up work orders or a location where the employee frequently works.
4. The employee's round-trip commute from home to the first work location and from the last location to home is compensated for, pursuant to the travel policy, insofar as the costs exceed the round-trip travel expenses between home and a fixed work location.
5. Travel expenses between work locations during a workday will be compensated for in accordance with the travel policy. Such transitions during the working day, made with the agreed vehicle/transport by the fastest route, are counted as working hours.
6. This protocol is complied with as of the date of its signature in a manner equivalent to the valid collective agreement, and the determinations of workplaces pursuant to this protocol must be made without undue delay.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

PROTOCOL ON THE APPLICATION OF THE COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR WHEN SUBSTITUTING FOR A FAMILY CARER

The signatory organisations note that the family carer of a senior citizen, disabled or ill person cared for at home is, pursuant to section 27 a of the Social Welfare Act and the decree on subsidising dependent care, entitled to occasional days off. Such cases require the arrangement of substitutes.

If the substitutes are arranged by an employer complying with the collective agreement for the private social services sector, the normal starting point is to apply the industry's collective agreement to the substitute carer. However, periods of substitution can lead to a situation where strict compliance with the working hours regulations of the collective agreement in terms of the substitute carer becomes unreasonable with regard to the person to be cared for and/or the employee acting as the substitute carer. This is especially true in substitution periods that last longer than a normal shift, in which the continuous change of substitute carers over a single weekend, for example, is not functional with regard to the person who needs care and/or the employee's long commute.

The signatory organisations note that in longer-duration substitutions of a family carer that take place at the home of the person cared for, the substitute carer and their employer may agree on certain exceptional arrangements to working hours and the compensation for working hours. The objective is an agreed arrangement which could be considered reasonable from the perspective of both the person cared for and the substitute carer.

The possibility for such agreements is only applicable to situations in which the employee spends the night at the home of the person cared for.

The exceptions can be as follows:

1. The length of a shift can be agreed on in derogation of section 6 of the collective agreement, as long as the regular working hours are adjusted to accord with the collective agreement over a maximum reference period of six weeks. In accordance with the procedures on local agreements, the length of the reference period can, for exceptional reasons, be agreed to comprise a maximum of two six-week periods or four three-week periods.

2. The level of the night increment can be agreed to be lower than the night increment pursuant to section 14 of the collective agreement. The lower-than-normal night increment can be agreed to be applicable only to the hours (of which there are a maximum of 6 hours per night) during which the employee has the right and the possibility to sleep, and during which time, according to family carer's knowledge, it is only very seldom necessary to wake up to help the person cared for. Therefore, a normal night increment pursuant to the collective agreement – which is 40% of the basic hourly salary – is paid for at least the hours between 9:00 p.m. and 12 (midnight).

The entire time during which the employee is, according to the work shift schedule, obligated to stay at the home of the person cared for, is counted as working hours.

The agreement's entry into force requires it to be sent to the relevant parties to the collective agreement. This allows said parties to contest the agreement if it has been made contrary to principles explained in the previous paragraphs. The unions and federations will monitor the situation for the duration of the term of the agreement and provide application instructions when necessary.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

PROTOCOL ON THE APPLICATION OF THE COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR TO THE PERSONAL ASSISTANTS OF DISABLED PERSONS

The signatory organisations note that the collective agreement for the private social services sector must be applied when a company, organisation, foundation or an equivalent operator provides personal assistant services for the disabled pursuant to the Disabled Services Act. .

Wages

The work of personal assistants is subject to the pay agreement and pay grouping of the social services sector. The work of a personal assistant falls primarily under pay group A, B or C, depending on the competence, training and independence required by the job

This protocol aims to clarify the application of the collective agreement's key working hours regulations and allow for agreements on exceptionally long shifts.

Form of working hours

Based on the nature of the work, personal assistance is subject to period-based working hours as referred to in section 6(4) of the collective agreement

Use of work shift schedules

A work shift schedule of the work shifts is prepared in advance for the reference period. This work shift schedule must be made available to the assistant no later than a week before the schedule becomes applicable.

If the employer and employee have agreed that the assistant's working hours vary according to the work situation, the shifts which are known at the time the work shift schedule is prepared are entered in it. Additional shifts can be agreed on after this. According to Chapter 2, section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act, when an employer needs additional workers for tasks suitable for the employer's part-time employees, the employer must offer these jobs to the part-time employees.

The length of the reference period is a single work shift schedule – i.e. 3–6 weeks – unless there is a local agreement, pursuant to section 6(9) of the collective agreement, on a reference period the length of which covers several work shift schedules. The signatory organisations recommend that work shift schedules be prepared for either 3 or 6 weeks

Counting hours as working hours

The entire time during which the assistant is, during the work shift schedule or after the schedule's completion, in accordance with the agreed shifts, obligated to stay with the assisted person, is counted as working hours. However, in trip, camp and travel situations pursuant to section 6(17) of the collective agreement, and in equivalent circumstances, the possibilities for agreement provided in the section can be applied.

Change or cancellation of a shift

If a shift entered in the work shift schedule cannot be realised due to an unforeseen reason (such as the customer postponing or cancelling the planned shift), the employer should aim to agree on the change to the work shift schedule with the assistant, in accordance with section 6(8) of the collective agreement. If the employer and assistant fail to reach an agreement over the change, the employer can give an order on the change to the work shift schedule in accordance with said section.

If the change or cancellation of the shift occurs on the basis of the employer's order, the assistant is entitled to receive their basic salary for at least the hours pursuant to the planned work shift schedule. Hourly increments (evening, night, Saturday and Sunday increments) are paid according to the times of the hours worked.

Application instructions: The employer and employee will aim to agree on a new time for a cancelled shift. The employer must apply its ultimate authority in terms of the time, offering various alternatives. An employee may remain without pay due to an unforeseen change in shifts in the event that the employee turns down all new times possible and suitable from the employer's point of view.

If the shift is cancelled by the employer, the new shift offered in lieu of the cancelled one must be given at the same time the cancellation is made. The effected change must concern the same work shift schedule from which the original shift is cancelled. If a new shift cannot be offered in lieu of the cancelled one, the cancelled shift is subject to pay in accordance with the protocol.

Agreeing on exceptionally long shifts

The personal assistance provided to disabled persons involves situations in which strict adherence to the collective agreement's working hours regulations would make the functional arrangement of assisting activities considerably more difficult.

In relation to situations in which there is a need for assistance for a longer period of time, the assistant and their employer can agree on exceptional arrangements to working hours. The objective is an agreed arrangement which can be considered reasonable from the perspective of both the assisted person and the assistant. The exception can be of the following kind:

The length of a shift can be agreed on in derogation of section 6 of the collective agreement, as long as the regular working hours are adjusted to accord with the collective agreement over the applied reference period.

The signatory organisations recommend that the agreement concerning exceptionally long shifts be sent to the parties to the collective agreement whose members the agreement concerns. The unions will monitor the situation and provide application instructions when necessary.

The entry into force of this protocol

This protocol supplementing the collective agreement for the private social services sector enters into force as of the date of its signature and will remain valid in the same manner as the collective agreement.

Helsinki, 23 June 2020

SIGNATORY ORGANISATIONS

APPENDIX: ANNUAL HOLIDAY PROVISION OF THE COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR WHEN TRANSFERRING FROM THE SIX WORKING DAYS PER WEEK HOLIDAY CALCULATION PURSUANT TO THE ANNUAL HOLIDAYS ACT TO A HOLIDAY CALCULATION OF FIVE HOLIDAYS PER WEEK.

Section 18 Annual holiday

Accumulation of annual holiday

Instead of the calculation of working days (6 per week) pursuant to the Annual Holidays Act, annual holidays to be earned as of 1 April 2022 will be subject to the calculation of holidays (5 per week), unless earlier validity is decided on employer-specifically.

Examples:

For the holiday credit year 1 April 2021–31 March 2022, holidays are earned according to the previous calculation of six working days and granted as working days (six working days a week for the holiday season of 2022 and the following winter holiday season) or paid, when an employment relationship comes to an end, as a holiday compensation pursuant to the six-working-days-a-week rule, unless earlier validity of the new provision has been decided on employer-specifically.

For the holiday credit year 1 April 2022–31 March 2023, holidays are earned according to the five-holidays-a-week rule and granted as holidays (five holidays a week) or paid, when an employment relationship comes to an end, as a holiday compensation pursuant to the five-holidays-a-week rule.

If an employee on 1 May 2023 still has holidays earned according to the six-day rule prior to 1 April 2022, such holidays will be converted to holidays according with the five-day rule on 1 May 2023, pursuant to subsection 3 of the section.

Days from Monday through Friday are holidays, excluding public holidays as referred to in section 7 of the collective agreement.

Unless otherwise provided in this section 18 of the collective agreement, the Annual Holidays Act is nevertheless applied in other respects in such a way that the 12, 18 and 24 working days related to the division and carrying over of annual holidays as referred to in section 21 and section 27 of the Annual Holidays Act mean 10, 15 and 20 holidays when converted into holidays.

2. Employees earn annual holidays for each full holiday credit month as follows:

a) Holiday schedule A is applied if the employment relationship with the current employer has continued without interruption for less than a year by the end of March.

b) Holiday schedule B is applied if the employment relationship with the current employer has continued without interruption for at least a year by the end of March.

c) Holiday schedule C is applied if the employee, by the end of March, has at least 15 years of service time entitling them to a service increment.

d) Annual extra holidays:

An employee is subject to the bottom row of each schedule containing extra holidays if they have, by the end of March, at least three years of service time entitling them to the service increment in a directly continued employment relationship with the current employer (in accordance with Chapter 1, section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act, several consecutive fixed-term employment relationships with only short interruptions in between are regarded as a continuous employment relationship) or, in total, as at least 10 years of service time entitling the employee to a service increment.

A prerequisite for the annual extra holidays is that the employee has earned annual holidays for at least six months during the holiday credit year.

Holiday schedule A

Full holiday credit months	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Holidays	2	4	5	7	9	10	12	14	15	17	19	20

Holidays + extra holidays						15	18	20	22	24	26	28

Example: The employment relationship of an employee with less than 15 years of experience in the field began on 1 January 2023. For the holiday credit year 1 April 2022–31 March 2023 they are subject to holiday schedule A.

As of 1 April 2023, they are subject to holiday schedule B, as long as the employment relationship lasts for at least a year.

Holiday schedule C

Full holiday credit months	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Holidays	3	5	8	10	13	15	18	20	23	25	28	30
Holidays + extra holidays						18	20	23	25	28	30	33

Example: The employee's work experience entitling them to the 15-year service increment will be fulfilled on 1 September 2022. The employee will begin earning holidays in accordance with holiday schedule C as of 1 April 2022.

Example: The employment relationship of an employee with more than 15 years of work experience entitling them to a service increment began on 1 January 2023. The employee will begin earning holidays in accordance with holiday schedule C immediately.

Right to extra holidays carrying over from 1993:

An employee who has been in the employment of their current employer on 31 October 1993 and who had a total of at least 15 years of service time entitling them to a service increment on 31 March 1994, retains their right to each number of holidays earned for 6–12 months to be increased by five extra holidays instead of the extra holiday row in holiday schedule C. The extension of holidays can be agreed on locally.

The conversion of holiday rights or carried-over holidays of a higher level than the collective agreement:

3. A holiday right and carried-over holidays of a higher level than this collective agreement applied to an employee are converted to the five-days-per-week holiday calculation from the six days per week working-day calculation in accordance with the following schedule.

The portion of holidays exceeding the schedule are converted by multiplying the holiday right by 0.85.

The service time entitling an employee to an annual holiday

4. The service time entitling an employee to an annual holiday is deemed to include all service time entitling the employee to service increments pursuant to section 3 of the pay agreement.

Granting of annual holidays

5. Any portion of a holiday in excess of five weeks is granted during the summer holiday or winter holiday season as determined by the employer. Statutory annual holidays are given according to the Annual Holidays Act.

The summer holiday season in the Region of Lapland is 1 June–30 September.

Carried-over holidays

6. The employer and employee may agree on a carried-over holiday scheme pursuant to section 27 of the Annual Holidays Act and section 21 of the Working Hours Act. A portion of 15 holidays in excess of the annual holiday may be carried over. Days off given as compensation for additional work and overtime can be linked, in part or in full, to a carried-over holiday by agreement.

Holiday pay and holiday compensation

7. The holiday pay of an employee with a monthly salary:

An employee with a monthly salary whose working hours include Sunday, evening, night or Saturday work performed during regular working hours is entitled to an addition equivalent to the aforementioned hour-specific increments to their holiday pay and holiday compensation.

The hour-specific increments are accounted for in such a way that the holiday pay calculated on the basis of the monthly salary is raised by the percentage which indicates how many percentages the hour-specific increments paid during the holiday credit year make up of the actual regular wages paid for the same period of time.

If the employment relationship has not yet been valid during the previous holiday credit year, the increased portion of the hour-specific increments is calculated from the entire length of the employment relationship or from a period of time which indicates the average share of the increments.

The holiday pay and holiday compensation of an employee with a monthly salary is calculated by using the figure 21 as the divisor and the number of holidays as the multiplier.

The fixed holiday pay is adjusted to the employee's actual monthly salary in connection with the next salary payment in accordance with the previous Annual Holidays Act, whenever the combined portions of holiday pay and monthly salary do not correspond to the actual monthly salary.

8. The holiday pay of an employee with an hourly salary:

The calculation of the holiday pay of employees with an hourly salary is subject to the calculation provisions of the Annual Holidays Act.

Holiday pay based on an average daily pay

An hourly employee falling under the scope of the 14-day earnings rule is subject to section 11 of the Annual Holidays Act, although in such a way that the following schedule is applied instead of the schedule given in the Annual Holidays Act.

number of holidays	multiplier
2	1,8
3	2,7
4	3,6
5	5,4
6	6,3
7	7,2

28	30,5
29	31,4
30	33,2
31	34,1
32	35
33	35,9

If the number of holidays is more than 33, the multiplier is increased by 1.08 per holiday.

Percentage-based holiday pay

If an employee's holiday pay or holiday compensation is determined on the basis of a percentage, the per cent used in the annual holiday calculation is determined according to the row below the number of holidays in question in the following schedule. The holiday schedule applicable to the employee is determined as explained in subsection 2 of this section.

If the employee earns holidays in excess of a level provided in the holiday schedule, the per cent indicated in the schedule is increased by 0.45% for each such holiday.

Holiday schedule A

Full holiday credit months	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Holidays	2	4	5	7	9	10	12	14	15	17	19	20

9. Payment of the holiday pay

A holiday pay is paid on the payday normally applied in an employment relationship, unless the employee, no later than a month prior to their holiday, requests their holiday pay to be paid in accordance with the Annual Holidays Act.

(The principle applicable to holidays longer than six days pursuant to the Annual Holidays Act is that the holiday pay is paid prior to the start of the holiday and, in holidays shorter than this, on the actual payday).

Section 19 Holiday bonus

1. Once an employer has adopted the five-day holiday calculation pursuant to the appendix, employees are paid 50% of their annual holiday pay, including their hour-specific increments pursuant to section 18, subsection 7 or 8 of the appendix, as a holiday bonus. However, a holiday bonus is not paid for any extra holidays determined in accordance with section 18, subsection 2d of the appendix.

The holiday bonus is calculated on the basis of the regular monthly salary in June, and paid in connection with the July payday, unless minor changes are made to the date of payment by the employer and employee.

Application instructions: A minor change to the date of payment means a date of payment other than July during the holiday season (2 May–30 September).

Example: An employee has earned 25 holidays. The hour-specific increments of a holiday credit year have amounted to 8% of the monthly salaries of the holiday credit year. The holiday bonus is the regular monthly salary for June plus $50\% \times 25/21 \times 8\%$ (temporary changes or unpaid absences are not taken into account). When an employment relationship comes to an end, the holiday bonus is calculated on the basis of the monthly salary applicable on the date the relationship ends.

If the employee's holiday pay is calculated on the basis of a percentage or, in situations involving changes as referred to in section 10, subsection 4 of the Annual Holidays Act, on the basis a monthly salary of the holiday credit year, the holiday bonus is 50% of the holiday pay including hour-specific increments, excluding the proportion of extra holidays determined according to section 18, subsection 2d.

2. The holiday bonus requires the employee to start their holiday and return from it on the agreed dates, unless the return from the holiday is prevented due to a reason mentioned in section 7 of the Annual Holidays Act or some other acceptable reason.

3. The holiday bonus is also paid for the holiday compensation, provided that the employment relationship has lasted for a minimum of four months without interruptions. However, this does not apply to an employee who fails to comply with a period of notice or who terminates a fixed-term employment relationship contrary to the Employment Contracts Act or whose employment relationship is deemed cancelled due to an absence from work pursuant to Chapter 8, section 3 of the Employment Contracts Act.

PROTOCOL ON THE REFORM OF THE COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR

The signatory organisations have agreed on the reform of the collective agreement for the private social services sector as follows:

COLLECTIVE AGREEMENT FOR THE PRIVATE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR 1 April 2020–30 April 2022

Amendments to the collective agreement valid from 1 February 2018 to 31 March 2020 are italicised.

1. Validity of the agreement

The new collective agreement takes effect on 1 April 2020 and ends on 30 April 2022.

2. Pay rises

General wage increases

Employees' personal monthly salaries, hourly salaries and official salaries valid on 31 July 2020 are raised by 1.3% as of 1 August 2020.

Employees' personal monthly salaries, hourly salaries and official salaries valid on 30 June 2021 are raised by 1.5% as of 1 July 2021.

Minimum raises to pay scales

The minimum levels of pay groups A–B valid on 31 August 2021 are raised as follows on 1 September 2021, with these levels being the new minimum levels:

- 0 years in service increment step 1.1%
- 5 years in service increment step 1.2%
- 8 years in service increment step 1.1%
- 11 years in service increment step 1.1%

The minimum levels of pay groups C–F valid on 31 August 2021 are raised as follows on 1 September 2021, with these levels being the new minimum levels:

0 years in service increment step 2%

5 years in service increment step 1.1%

8 years in service increment step 0.7%

11 years in service increment step 0.5%

In the scale for the rest of Finland, group B's minimum level G15B raises to level G16, becoming the minimum level of G16B, and group C's minimum level G18C raises to level G19, becoming the minimum level of G19C.

The raises in minimum level may lead to a situation where a portion of salary paid to an employee monthly in addition to the minimum official salary may reduce, unless it is a task-specific increment pursuant to section 1, subsection 3(2) of the collective agreement's pay agreement or a personal qualifications increment pursuant to section, subsection 4 of the collective agreement's pay agreement.

A euro-denominated increment agreed on separately in an employment contract to be paid in addition to a previous minimum official salary cannot be reduced, unless it is an increment attributable to a change of collective agreement (transition increment) or an increment agreed on in connection to a reducing minimum level raise.

These increments pursuant to section 1, subsection 3(2) or section 1, subsection 4 of the pay agreement or agreed on separately in an employment contract are retained in the aforementioned manner in addition to the raised minimum level. (The euro denomination of euro-denominated increments is retained and the percentage of increments agreed on terms of percentages retained.)

The cost effect of the aforementioned minimum-level raises throughout the scope of the agreement is 0.6%.

3. Shop steward compensation and compensation of industrial safety delegates

The compensation paid to shop stewards, chief shop stewards and industrial safety delegates are raised as of 1 August 2020 by 5% or, at minimum, in accordance with the schedules below.

Shop steward compensation as of 1 August 2020:

Number of employees represented	€ per month
2–4	24
5–25	47
26–50	54
51–100	65
101–200	79
201–300	119
301–	140

Chief shop steward compensation: €100 as of 1 August 2020

Compensation of industrial safety delegate as of 1 August 2020:

Number of employees represented	€ per month
20–29	25
30–100	40
101–200	55
201–300	72
301–	89

4. Textual changes

Section 1, subsection 1 + signatures:

The names of the signatory organisations will be changed to their valid forms: Hyvinvointialan Liitto is changed to Hyvinvointiala HALI Ry (the Finnish Association of Private Care Providers), Terveys- ja Sosiaalialan Neuvottelujärjestö TSN is changed to Sosiaali- ja terveystalalan neuvottelujärjestö Sote ry, the Trade Union for the Public and Welfare Sectors JHL (remains unchanged), the Union of Professional Social Workers Talentia (remains unchanged) and the Jyty-Pardia-STHL Neuvottelujärjestö (the negotiation organisation for the Federation of Public and Private Sector Employees (JYTY), the Federation of Salaried Employees PARDIA and Suomen Terveydenhoitajaliitto (STHL)) is changed to Sosiaalipalvelualan allianssi Salli.

3 Section Start of employment relationship

3. Fixed-term employment contracts can be made for a justified reason as referred to in the Employment Contracts Act.

3.1 The duration of a fixed-term employment contract may not, without a justified reason, be made for a shorter period of time than what the fixed-term need for workforce known to the employer is with regard to the work in question.

3.2 A work shift schedule in accordance with chapter 6(8) of this collective agreement will be drawn up for fixed-term employee.

3.3 If an employer and employee have entered into several consecutive fixed-term employment contracts without interruptions or with only short-term interruptions in between, the employment relationship is considered, in terms of the determination of employment benefits, to have been valid continuously as referred to in Chapter 1, section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act.

Section 6 Working hours: Dropping the increase in working hours pursuant to the Competitiveness Pact::

Length of regular working hours

The 30-minute addition to weekly working hours based on the Competitiveness Pact will be abandoned as of 31 August 2020 or the beginning of the work shift schedule taking effect closest to said date. Until such time, the working hours pursuant to the previous collective agreement apply.

Period-based working hours

4. An employee's regular working hours in period-based work as referred to in section 7 of the Working Hours Act – such as in early childhood education services requiring night work and social services operating for the major part of a day – are, at maximum, 10 hours a day and, in night shifts, 12 hours a day, and 38 hours 50 minutes (as of 31 August 2020, 38 hours 20 minutes) a week.

In emergency duty-like period-based work, in which the employee usually has a chance for rest during the shift, the maximum length of the shift may be longer, as long as the daily rest periods pursuant to section 25 of the Working Hours Act are met.

Minimum length of a shift

5. Inappropriately short shifts are to be avoided. Shifts lasting less than four hours are not to be used at a workplace unless an employee's needs or some other justified reason attributable to work – such as the short duration of the work or need for workforce – so requires.

Use of work shift schedules

7. Regular weekly working hours can also be organised in such a way that they are, on average, the aforementioned. This requires a work shift schedule to have been prepared in advance for the work concerning the period of time during which the weekly regular working hours adjust to the average in question. The length of the reference period is 3–6 weeks.

Application instructions:

Work shift schedules must be planned for full calendar weeks.

9. In period-based work, employees may not be assigned more than five consecutive night shifts in the work shift schedule, after which they must be given a continuous break of at least 24 hours. In addition to five consecutive night shifts, an employer may nevertheless, as an exception, have an employee work no more than two night shifts as additional work or overtime, subject to the employee's separate consent for each of those shifts.

Rest periods

10. The regular working hours of a 24-hour period are to be organised in such a way that, unless there is a justified reason for some other procedure, the working hours are uninterrupted apart from a 30-minute meal break. Hour-long meal breaks can be agreed locally. If an employee can leave the workplace during the meal break, the meal break is not counted as working hours.

Derogations from the working hours regulations

14. The working hours provisions in this collective agreement do not apply to employees outside the Working Hours Act's scope of application whose working hours are not predefined and whose use of their working hours is not monitored and who can, therefore, decide on their working hours themselves, when the case pertains to work carried out at private residencies which, due to the special characteristics of the operations involved is being carried out in circumstances of the kind that the employer cannot be considered to be in a position to monitor the arrangements of the time spent on it.

This provision does not apply to remote working covered by the Working Hours Act's scope of application.

Section 6 a Local agreements on working hours

3. Flexible working hours

A) The working hours can be adjusted over a period of several work shift schedules. Each work shift schedule must be prepared and made available a week before the schedule in question becomes applicable.

The length of the reference period can usually be agreed to comprise a maximum of 6 three-week periods (18 weeks).

For special reasons, the length of the reference period can be agreed to comprise a maximum of 17 three-week periods (51 weeks). Such special reasons can include varying amounts of work during different seasons or other functional reasons or a reason based on the employee's own working hour needs, the realisation of which requires, pursuant to the shared view of the parties, a longer-than-usual reference period. Such special reasons must be mentioned in the working hours agreement.

B) The daily maximum working hours with regard to general and office work can be extended to 12 hours as long as the working hours are adjusted to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement during the reference period.

C) The maximum length of a shift in period-based work can be extended to 15 hours as long as the working hours are adjusted to the maximum working hours pursuant to the collective agreement during the reference period and the daily rest is provided in accordance with section 25 of the Working Hours Act.

In accordance with the Working Hours Act, a reduction of the daily rest to nine hours may not be regular. If the rest period has been reduced to less than 11 hours, the rest period substituting for the daily rest must be given in connection to the next daily rest or, if this is not possible due to weighty reasons related to the work's arrangement, as soon as possible, although in any case within 14 days. A substituting rest period must be given as a continuous period and it may not coincide with a standby time.

4. Working hours plan of locally agreed longer reference periods

Longer reference periods require the preparation of a working hours plan, which must include the key principles applicable to the arrangement of the working hours. In such cases, the parties must agree on, for instance, the arrangement of shifts according to the work situation, regularly occurring days off, the periods subject to longer-than-usual working hours and the time of any possible longer period of days off.

Application instructions: Well-functioning local agreements are able to reconcile the workplace's functional needs and an employee's working hours needs. A working hours plan agrees, depending on the parties' needs, on the principles of arranging the working hours in a broader or more precise manner.

The plan may be changed for a justified reason, but any longer periods of days off agreed on must be realised during the longer reference period, unless otherwise agreed..

Section 7 Public holidays

1. Good Friday, Easter Monday, Midsummer's Eve, and any New Year's Day, Epiphany, May Day, Ascension Day, Independence Day, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and Boxing Day which does not fall on a Saturday or Sunday, is an extra public holiday if it can be given as a day off, accounting for the nature of the relevant task. Should the aforementioned days not be days off, the employee is given an equivalent whole day off during the same week or the reference period, unless otherwise agreed between the employer and employee.
2. Each of the aforementioned days reduces the regular working hours of the week or reference period by an amount equivalent to the average daily hours (weekly working hours divided by 5).

The public holiday reduction of an employee subject to varying working hours as referred to in chapter 6(6) of the collective agreement is calculated on the basis of the previous holiday credit year or the average of realised working hours during the last 12 months. If the employment relationship has not yet lasted for a full holiday credit year or 12 months, the public holiday reduction is calculated on the basis of the average of realised working hours during the entire duration of the employment relationship or a period which is demonstrative of the average weekly working hours.

Example: The employee has, during the previous holiday credit year, worked for a total of 704 hours during 47 weeks outside their annual holidays.

Public holiday reductions and hours not worked during absences pursuant to section 7 of the Annual Holidays Act are considered equal to work that has been carried out.

During the previous holiday credit year, the employee was paid 30 hours' worth in public holiday compensation and the hours not worked due to sick-leave over the course of the holiday credit year total 18.

The employee's average weekly working hours are $752 \text{ h} (704 + 48) / 47 = 16 \text{ h}$ per week. The amount of the public holiday reduction is $16 \text{ h} / 5 = 3.2 \text{ h}$ (3 hours and 12 minutes) / public holiday.

The public holiday reduction is granted to employees who are paid a monthly or hourly salary and whose employment relationship lasts for a minimum of two weeks. An employee paid by the hour is paid the normal hourly salary equivalent to the public holiday reduction as compensation for the public holiday reduction.

Application instructions: The provision on fringe benefits dependent on the duration of an employment relationship in Chapter 1 section 5 of the Employment Contracts Act must be accounted for in consecutive fixed-term employment relationships or recurring employment relationships with only short-term intervals.

15 Section Standby and emergency compensation

1. The standby may not cause unreasonable inconvenience to the employee's use of free time. The amount of the standby compensation or the grounds for its determination must be made available to the employees in writing at the time the standby agreement is made.

The usual amount of the emergency compensation is €18. However, if the employee must leave for work immediately after the emergency call, the amount of the compensation is €25. If the call to work means that the employee's shift entered in the work shift schedule begins at most an hour earlier, the amount of the emergency compensation is €10.

Section 18 Annual holiday

1. Annual holiday benefits are determined in accordance with the provisions of the Annual Holidays Act and the following regulations.

Instead of the calculation of working days (6 per week) pursuant to the Annual Holidays Act, annual holidays to be earned as of 1 April 2022 will be subject to the calculation of holidays (5 per week), unless earlier validity is decided on employer-specifically. (Appendix 1)

21 Section Medical examinations and vaccinations

1. In the following cases, the employer will not make a deduction from the employee's wages, provided that the check-ups and examinations are conducted in such a way that unnecessary loss of working hours is avoided and there has been no possibility to conduct them outside working hours and they have been notified of beforehand.

a) the employee goes to a necessary medical examination for the purposes of getting an illness diagnosed or for the determination of a treatment or the administration of assistive products (such as glasses) and a related laboratory or X-ray examination ordered by a doctor.

b) a pregnant employee goes to prenatal medical examinations, such as maternity clinic examinations, which monitor the health of the pregnant employee or the foetus.

~~c) The employee goes to a medical examination required by a new job or some other statutory medical examination. In such cases, the employer pays the necessary travel costs.~~

2. An employee's visits to medical examinations required by a new job or the law are counted as working hours. In such cases, the employer pays the necessary travel costs.

3. Employees have the right to get the vaccinations required by their work during working hours, provided that this is not possible without difficulty during some other time.

...

5. The loss of earnings attributable to attending a meeting of the highest decision-making bodies of the signatory parties to this collective agreement, a member organisation thereof or a federation of unions or a union or representative meeting, or a meeting of a board committee/support team, is compensated for to the member of such an organ of trust.

Section 23 Maternity, paternity and parental leave and child-care leave

2. For the duration of the employment relationship, the employee is paid, as of the beginning of a maternity leave, actual regular wages for a period of 72 weekdays, provided that the employee has been in the employment relationship for at least three months.

Application instructions:

In accordance with the provisions in question, an employee is also entitled to maternity pay when they, following a parental leave or child-care leave, take a new maternity leave in compliance with the appropriate notification periods.

Section 27 Training and well-being at work

Occupational training and shared training organised by the employer and union training are subject to the training agreement between the signatory parties.

The signatory parties recommend that the need to develop an employee's personal professional skills and well-being at work be reviewed by the employee and their supervisor every year.

Section 35 Validity of the agreement

This agreement is valid from 1 April 2020 to 30 April 2022, continuing thereafter always for one year at a time, unless it is terminated in writing no later than a month before its expiration.

PAY AGREEMENT

...

3.2. Task-specific increment in work more demanding than basic work:

The level of an employee's wages is impacted by how demanding their tasks are. If the employee's tasks are clearly more demanding and entail more responsibility than the basic work of the pay group in question, or if they require special training or experience, this must be accounted for either as a G pay grade higher than the minimum pay grade or as a euro-denominated task-specific increment.

Examples of situations in which a level of pay pursuant to section 3.2. must at least be applied:

- The employee has special tasks clearly more demanding than the pay group's basic work.
 - A task requiring special competence or expertise which is not included in the pay group's basic work.
 - Responsibility for a specific subject area or procurements not included within the pay group's basic work.
 - Being the contact person of a specific area of responsibility when this task is not included in the pay group's basic work.

When the criteria are met, the grounds for the payment of a task-specific increment are formed according to the same principles in all pay groups, compared to how demanding the basic work of each pay group normally is.

Examples of tasks that can be part of one or more pay groups: The person in charge of student tutoring, work shift planning or induction. The role of a person in charge does not refer to conventional participation in student tutoring, work shift planning or induction carried out in connection to normal work in the unit.

Examples of tasks that can be part of one or more pay groups: The person in charge of developing work methods or systems, pharmacotherapy, terminal care, hygiene.

The list consists of examples and does not include all tasks forming a right to a task-specific increment.

- The employee is in the position of an employee in charge, or responsible for directing other employees, and a position of this kind is not included among the pay group's normal duties (such a team leader).
- The employee possesses the special work experience required by a task.
- The employee has, in addition to the pay group's normal training requirements, a professional degree, specialist qualifications or some other specialisation degree or specialisation training required by the work.
- Due to the nature of the work, the workplace has applied a level of pay higher than the basic work level, and new employees are hired for similar duties

3.3. The applicable task-specific increments and their amounts in euros or ranges of variation within different pay groups must be explained to the shop steward and the personnel. The accounts in question are given annually on either group, company or workplace-level, according to the employer's discretion.

4. Personal qualifications increment

An employee can be paid a euro-denominated personal pay increment for special professional skills, working efficiency, work contribution, cooperation skills, professional expertise or diverse interpersonal skills. The increment may be granted until further notice or for a fixed period of time.

The grounds for the payment of a personal qualification increment must be explained to the shop steward and the personnel. The accounts in question are given annually on either group, company or workplace-level, according to the employer's discretion. The grounds for payment must be made available to all employees.

5. Availability increment

A locality-specific or unit-specific availability increment can be paid on the basis of the availability of workforce.

6. Quality bonus

An employee or a group of employees can be paid a quality bonus for work of a particularly high quality based on the quality system applied by the employer or some other quality indicator.

3 Section Service increments

1. An employee's basic salary pursuant to the collective agreement will increase in accordance with the pay scale appended here after 5, 8 and 11 service years entitling the employee to a service increment.

(The amounts of the experience increment steps vary, depending on the G pay level and the service increment step, from slightly less than 3% to slightly less than 5%, calculated from the basic salary).

Section 4 Trainees, summer employees, young employees, exceptionally simple work and messengers

1. An agreement on a trainee period can be made with a student of the field; the pay during such a trainee period is at least 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question.

The agreement on pay with an employee in apprenticeship training can specify the pay to be 90% of the standard pay grade for the task in question. However, the salary of an employee who begins apprenticeship training with their current employer may not be reduced in the current job.

4. If an employee's tasks are, exceptionally, fundamentally simpler or less independent than the pay group's basic tasks, or if the employee lacks the qualifications required for the tasks, due to which they are not able to carry out all of the relevant duties in full, the minimum pay can be determined as being one G pay grade lower than the minimum pay grade of the pay group in question.

Employers must present the grounds for the use of a pay grade lower than the minimum pay grade in writing, after the matter has been discussed with the shop steward or, in the absence of a shop steward, together with the employees.

5. A messenger's salary may be at most 5% lower than a salary pursuant to the lowest official pay according to the valid G pay scale.

3. If the official salary pursuant to the G pay grade selected for an employee remains lower than the employee's salary at the moment of transition, the difference is paid as a transition increment, provided that the excess is not based on the demands of the work or personal qualifications ~~or unless it is agreed to be of this kind.~~

PAY GROUPING OF THE SOCIAL SERVICES SECTOR

(The principles for placing jobs in pay groups and for the use of minimum pays and excesses are given in section 1 (p. x) of the pay agreement.)

Pay group A (assisting duties):
Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G12A

...

Pay group B (basic duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G16B in the metropolitan area, G15B in the rest of Finland and, as of 1 September 2021, G16B

...

Example jobs:

health and service personnel: care assistant, home help, school aide, camp counsellor

...

Pay group C (professional duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G19C in the metropolitan area, G18C in the rest of Finland and, as of 1 September 2021, G19C

...

Pay group D (demanding professional duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G22D

...

Pay group E (specialist duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G24E

...

Pay group F (demanding specialist duties):

Minimum pay grade as of 1 June 2019 G27F

TRAINING AGREEMENT

Section1 Training work group

The training work groups between the signatory parties have been established for the purposes of implementing the union training referred to in the agreement. The work groups are composed of the representatives of the employee organisations belonging in the same central organisation and the representatives of the employer organisations; each party will appoint a maximum of two persons to a work group.

Section 2 Post-graduate professional education, further vocational training and retraining

When the employer provides employees with vocational training or sends employees to training events related to their profession, the expenses arising from the training and the loss of regular working hours are compensated for. The training is deemed equal to working hours as required by the Working Hours Act.

Whenever possible, training events should be accounted for in the preparation of work shift schedules in such a way that a training event would not coincide with an employee's day off, unless otherwise agreed. If the training takes place outside of working hours, the time spent is not considered to constitute working hours, but employees will be compensated for any direct expenses they incur.

4 Section Trade union training

1. Retention of employment relationship and notification periods

Employees are provided, without an interruption to the employment relationship, an opportunity to take part in training approved by the training work group and lasting no longer than a month, provided that the need for training has been jointly noted by the employer and the employee seeking to attend the course and that the participation can take place without substantial adverse effects on the company. In a negative case, the shop steward is notified, no later than 10 prior to the start of the course, of the reason why granting the leave would result in substantial adverse effects.

Shop stewards nevertheless have the right to attend, for a duration of at least six calendar days out of a year, courses of the right level and related to their cooperation duties.

Section 2 Shop steward

...

Regional or unit-specific shop stewards

4. Employees of large or regionally decentralised companies have the right to elect shop stewards of the same signatory organisation as referred to in this agreement for the company's independent regional or operational units. This can be done when the number of employees, the nature of the workplace and the actual shop steward's opportunities for meeting employees so require. The company's cooperation system may also be taken into account.

The number and operational areas of shop stewards are agreed on company-specifically, taking into account the aforementioned points and the operational conditions, such as the principles of time use pursuant to section 7. The agreement is made between the company and a signatory organisation or the shop steward authorised by the signatory organisation.

Section 7 Exemption from work granted to shop steward and industrial safety delegate

...

Unless there are reasons for some other assessment, the exemption time of a shop steward within ~~personnel resourcing~~ is as follows, depending on the number of employees represented:

Number of employees	Hours of exemption per three weeks
2-4	2-6 hours
5-25	3-7 hours
26-50	7-11 hours
51-100	11-15 hours
101-200	14-20 hours
201-300	18-28 hours
301-800	26-52 hours
800-	entirely exempt from work

2. An employer must exempt an industrial safety delegate of their regular tasks for the purpose of carrying out the duties of an industrial safety delegate for such a reasonable amount of time which the industrial safety delegate needs to carry out said duties, unless a valid reason temporarily prevents such exemption.

A determination of the time for which an industrial safety delegate must be exempted from their work must account for the number of the employees they represent, the workplace's geographic extent, the number of the workplaces involved and the nature of the work carried out in them, factors impacting the amount of the industrial safety delegate's duties attributable to the organisation of work as well as other risk, hazard and workload factors referred to in the Occupational Safety and Health Act impacting employees' safety and their physical and mental health

Section 8 Loss of earnings and compensation

...

Shop steward compensation

4. A shop steward is paid a shop steward compensation on the basis of the number of the workplace's employees represented and falling under the scope of the collective agreement:

Number of employees represented	€ per month, 1 August 2020
2–4	24
5–25	47
26–50	54
51–100	65
101–200	79
201–300	119
301–	140

Chief shop steward compensation

5. The compensation of a chief shop steward elected in a large or regionally decentralised company is €100 (as of 1 August 2020), unless the shop steward compensation based on the number of employees represented by the shop steward is higher.

Compensation of industrial safety delegate

7. An industrial safety delegate is paid compensation for carrying out industrial safety tasks pursuant to the regular number of the workplace's employees as follows:

Number of employees represented	€ per month, 1 August 2020
20–29	25
30–100	40
101–200	55
201–300	72

...

Wages

The work of personal assistants is subject to the pay agreement and pay grouping of the social services sector. The work of a personal assistant falls primarily under pay group A, B or C, depending on the competence, training and independence required by the job.

Change or cancellation of a shift

If a shift entered in the work shift schedule cannot be realised due to an unforeseen reason (such as the customer postponing or cancelling the planned shift), the employer should aim to agree on the change to the work shift schedule with the assistant, in accordance with section 6(8) of the collective agreement.

If the change or cancellation of the shift occurs on the basis of the employer's order, the assistant is entitled to receive their basic salary for at least the hours pursuant to the planned work shift schedule. Hourly increments (evening, night, Saturday and Sunday increments) are paid according to the times of the hours worked.

Application instructions: The employer and employee will aim to agree on a new time for a cancelled shift. The employer must apply its ultimate authority in terms of the time, offering various alternatives. An employee may remain without pay due to an unforeseen change in shifts in the event that the employee turns down all new times possible and suitable from the employer's point of view.

If the shift is cancelled by the employer, the new shift offered in lieu of the cancelled one must be given at the same time the cancellation is made. The effected change must concern the same work shift schedule from which the original shift is cancelled. If a new shift cannot be offered in lieu of the cancelled one, the cancelled shift is subject to pay in accordance with the protocol.

5. Collective agreement's scope of application and early childhood education

The parties to the collective agreement note that the collective agreement for the private social services sector has, throughout its existence, been applied to private day care centres in addition to other social services. The transition of early childhood education from the administrative sector of the Ministry of Social Affairs and Health to the administrative sector of the Ministry of Education and Culture as of 1 January 2013 does not entail changes to the scope of application of the social services sector's collective agreement; rather, the collective agreement will continue to be applicable to private day care centres, too.

6. Working parties

- 1. Renewal of the guide on healthy and productive working hours ("Terveet ja tuokselliset työajat")*
- 2. The pay review working party, statistics working party and pay agreement reform working party will continue their work as agreed in the protocol of signature dated 5 March 2018.*
- 3. The parties will establish a working party to investigate the possibilities for promoting mental and physical occupational safety for the purpose of maintaining employees' well-being at work and capacity for work, prolonging careers and reducing sickness absences. The time use of industrial safety delegates as well as the role and functionality of the sector's industrial safety organisation will be investigated at the same time.*

7. Principle of continuous negotiation

The parties comply with the principles of continuous negotiation in their mutual relations.
